Major Budget Cuts, Tax Relief Held Unlikely

Floor Vote Expected Next Week

State Lawmakers Seek Compromise On Education Aid

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Republican legislative leaders plan no major cuts in Gov. Rockefeller's record, $2,035,000,000 budget and apparently have abandoned any hope of including any general tax relief.

Fiscal committees plan to approve the budget by Friday and it is expected to go to a floor vote next week in substantially the same form the governor submitted it.

Hope to Break Jam

By the following week, the leaders hope to work out a school-aid compromise that would divert much of the $2-million-dollar surplus in Rockefeller's fiscal plan but would not materially change the overall budget figure.

The budget plans were worked out by leaders as they swung into a drive to break a logjam that has stalled the Republican program.

Conflicts between the leaders and the Republican governor and between the leaders themselves have contributed to the delay.

The leaders—Sen. Walter J. Mahoney and Assembly Speaker Joseph P. Carino—and Rockefeller will meet frequently in coming weeks to schedule action on major legislation.

Other Key Issues

This is the status of key issues: Fallout Shelters: The leaders see little possibility that the Legislature would approve the governor's plan to require property owners to build shelters, at their own expense, for protection against radioactive fallout after nuclear attack. The governor will make a personal appeal for support Wednesday at an unusual, private meeting with all members of the Legislature.

The plan goes to the State De-

Will Study Meat Inspection Plan For Greene Area

Chairman Arnold Nicholson of Greenville, chairman of the Greene County Board of Supervisors, has named a committee to study the advisability of initiating a meat inspection program in the county. Angelo Cana of Cairo has been named chairman of the committee which will investigate the situation and report its recommendations later to the board.

The study is the result of a letter sent to the Greene County Board of Supervisors by Harold Rock of Morris, sanitary engineer for the Onondaga District, State Health Department. The communication recommended that the county adopt a meat inspection program and offered the State Health Department's assistance in setting one up.

Other members of the committee to make the study are Clarence Lane of Windham and Kenneth Hill of Durham.

Criminologist to Head Chicago Police Force

CHICAGO (AP)—Orlando W. Wilson, a mild-looking professor and newly named head of Chicago's scandal-riddled police department, says he will try to make the city's men-in-blue the best in the world.

But, cautioned the 59-year-old University of California dean after his selection Monday by Mayor Richard J. Daley, the job cannot be done overnight or by one man. "Moves will have to proceed slowly and after due deliberations to avoid capricious or unwelcome actions," he told the small army of newsmen who jammed into the mayor's office.

The special five-man committee which proposed Wilson's name to Daley—Wilson had been chairman of the group until prevailed upon to take the post himself—also called for a sweeping revision of the department organization.

The new commissioner, a surprise choice, is dean of the School of Criminology of the University of California in Berkeley. An expert in police administration, he has served as consultant to police departments in six big cities. His selection ended nearly FBI, Troopers, Deputies Are After Bank Burglars

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents, State Police and several deputy sheriffs joined today in Dutchess County in an effort to uncover clues that might lead to the apprehension of burglars who entered the Stissing National Bank last weekend.

Sheriff C. Fred Close told The Freeman that burglars smashed their way into the historic bank through a rear window, then made an unsuccessful attempt to break into the large vault by peeling off the front.

Newton D. Deuel, executive vice president of the bank, said authorities learned no money was missing when they entered the vault Monday afternoon. The bank official said the burglars made a getaway with a typewriter and a tape recorder.

Sheriff Close said the burglary was discovered by Henry D. Sherwood, assistant cashier and former master of National Grange. The bank president, W. Walker Bostwick, is vacationing in Florida.

According to Close the burglars knocked off the time lock combination and other mechanism on front of the vault.

After the burglary was reported to his office, Close assigned Deputies Bernard Ruchin and Thomas Foley to investigate. Later, Close called in the FBI and State Police.

Opposition to Plan Mounts

GOP Leaders Shy Away From Vote on Shelters

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Legislative leaders took a hands-off stand today in the State Defense Council's consideration of Gov. Rockefeller's proposal to make every property owner build a fallout shelter.

As opposition to the proposal mounted, the seven legislative leaders who are members of the council announced they would take no part in the council vote. The Republican governor heads the council.

To Water Down Plan

Regardless of the council decision, the GOP-controlled Legislature is expected to water down the $12-million-dollar program because many New Yorkers strongly object to the mandatory aspect and the cost.

Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carino, Long Island Republican, said he and the other legislators on the council would take no official position until after the governor had explained his plan to the entire Legislature. Rockefeller invited the Legislature to hear his views at a meeting Wednesday.

The unusual invitation from the governor was announced in the Legislature last night, shortly after Rockefeller appealed over television for voter support of the plan.

Under Heavy Fire

The shelter program has met heavy fire from legislators. One assemblyman, who declined use of his name, said "the kindest reaction was opposition."

Another veteran legislator felt it would be "beaten badly" if it ever came to a vote.

Democrats are solidly opposed. Five GOP and two Democratic legislators are members of the 23-man Defense Council, which is charged with providing for the health and safety of the population in the event of an attack.

Four others are state officials, headed by Rockefeller, and the remaining 12 are private citizens appointed by the governor with the approval of the Senate.

Rockefeller has said he would be guided but not bound by the council's decision on his plan.

He proposes that all property owners be required to build fallout shelters at their expense by July 1, 1963.

In his taped, television address, Rockefeller said:

"We can face the future regardless of the threats, dedicated to peace, but prepared for whatever dangers may come if we take the action now to build that protection."

Can't Meet Deadline

Education Commissioner James E. Allen told reporters Monday that shelters for all school districts probably could not be built by the 1963 deadline.

He said most districts, already running on tight budgets, would have trouble raising the necessary revenue. The school-shelter program will cost an estimated $12 million.

Cuba Set To Confer With U.S. Warns of Action Bad for Economy

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government says it is ready to negotiate its differences with the United States but warns against any Washington action harmful to the Cuban economy.

Foreign Minister Raul Roa handed a note to U.S. Charge d'Affaires Daniel Braddock Monday announcing that Cuba would appoint a commission to open talks in Washington at a date convenient to both countries.

Obvious Sugar Warning

The note expressed "confidence this decision will be justly appreciated by the North American government inasmuch as it is directed to the examination of questions that have lately affected traditional relations between Cuba and the United States."

But the note indicated that negotiations would fall through if the U.S. government or Congress took steps Cuba might consider harmful to its economy. This was an obvious warning against any tampering with the sugar quota system under which the United States purchases half of Cuba's sugar crop at premium prices.

Braddock declined to comment on the contents of the note, which he relayed to Washington. A state department spokesman in Washington said there would be no comment until the proposed has been studied.

Matters at Issue

Matters at issue between the U.S. and Cuban governments include:

U.S. demands for prompt and adequate payment for American property seized under Castro's agrarian reform program.

Cuban complaints that the United States is harboring "war criminal" members of dictator Fulgencio Batista's regime.

Cuban charges that U.S.-based planes are making bombing attacks on Cuba.

Severe restrictions on imports from the United States to Cuba.

Cuba also has been pressing for a new commercial agreement with the United States embracing the sugar quota system. Castro has complained frequently that having the quota subject to U.S. congressional action makes it "an instrument of political pressure" against Cuba.

Hearing at 7:30 Tonight About Dietz Land Sale

Public views on the proposal to use part of the Dietz Stadium property as the site for a new junior high school, will be voiced at a public hearing to be held at 7:30 p. m. today at City Hall to assist the Common Council in arriving at a decision.

Expressions of city residents will assist the Council in deciding whether to sell 3.5 acres of the city property to the local Board of Education in the stadium area.

A Common Council committee will meet later to discuss the sentiment of the public expressed at tonight's hearing and then make recommendations to the Council regarding the proposed sale of the acreage.

Only Two Sirens Fail

'Highly Successful,' Report on Radio Test

The first county-wide test of the new two-way radio system at noon Monday was called "highly successful" by Major H. Edgar Timmerman, Ulster County Civil Defense Director.

It was reported only two of the sirens located throughout the county failed to respond, and that was due to mechanical difficulties which will be remedied.

Not CD Alert

The test Monday did not constitute a Civil Defense alert and traffic was not halted or were pedestrians required to take shelter. The test was one to determine how successful the system had been installed in the firehouses of the county.

Details of the test were lacking today as Major Timmerman was in Albany attending a CD meeting.

The sirens were activated from the central control station in a basement room at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital Kingston. The city of Kingston was not included in the test since it is not a part of the county-wide two-way radio system.

The county-wide two-way radio system will be available to not only the fire companies but also as a Civil Defense measure and will be used also by the sheriff's department and County Highway system in its mobile units.

$100,000 System

The $100,000 system will be manned 24-hours a day when the system is completely installed and dispatchers have been hired and trained. The instruction of dispatchers is scheduled to take place next week.

The civil defense test Monday was required since approximately half the cost of the system is borne by the Federal government through civil defense funds. Before these funds can be used the system must have the approval of the Civil Defense department.

At Civil Defense headquarters in the city hall the test was declared "satisfactory."

13 Places Burglarized In Dutchess

An elusive burglar, who might have had one or more accomplices, worked his way through Poughkeepsie early today and left a trail of 12 burglaries in the city and one in the Town of Poughkeepsie.

Police Chief John L. Martin, who is directing an investigation of the rash of early morning burglaries which extended from one side of the city to the other, said loot amounted to $267 in cash, although he said further investigation might increase the total loot.

Same Pattern Used

The same pattern was used in each case, Chief Martin told The Freeman. The burglar smashed a hole about six inches wide in the front door of each store and then maneuvered until the lock was turned. Some of the places were not entered.

It was shortly after 2:15 a. m. that a resident of Hooker Avenue was awakened by a noise.

Nixon Enters Primary To Stress GOP Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon is countering Democratic attempts to tag him as a GOP Old Guard man with efforts to show he has united Republican party support.

As a part of this strategy, Nixon's name is scheduled to go into the April 26 Pennsylvania primary today as an unopposed candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) announced Monday that petitions to put Nixon's name on the ballot are being filed with Nixon's knowledge.

An entry in Pennsylvania would bring to eight the primaries in which Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) has entered or, in one case, is represented by proxy. In Ohio, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is running pledged to the Massachusetts senator.

In each instance Nixon has made it clear he has permitted the entry of his name primarily because local Republicans urged the action. They want to heal breaches in the party that go back to the 1952 fight between President Eisenhower and the late Sen. Robert A. Taft for the presidential nomination.

If Nixon brings out a substantial number of Republican voters in all eight states—even though he is unopposed—the vice president's followers will be prepared to claim that the GOP is united behind him.

Of the eight states, Wisconsin, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana cast their votes at the 1952 convention for Taft. New Hampshire and Oregon went for Eisenhower and Pennsylvania gave him a 53-15 margin over Taft. Nixon's home state of California was a holdout for Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Oklahoma Republicans, with no primary, already have pledged their delegation to Nixon in state convention. In 1952 the Oklahomans gave seven votes to Taft, four to Eisenhower and five to Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Economy, Freedom Main Goals

Ike, Kubitschek Sign: Rio Plans Major Reception

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP)—Chief executives of the two biggest nations in the Americas today pledged their joint determination to help develop the hemisphere materially and morally with the goal of "greater prosperity and harmony for all."

President Eisenhower and President Juscelino Kubitschek of Brazil, in a "Declaration of Brasilia," expressed confidence in the success of a hemispheric crusade for economic development. At the same time they asserted their support of "the fight against racial discrimination" and their belief in freedom of thought and religion.

Drafted in Advance

"Economic development cannot be disassociated from the preservation of peace and democratic rights," they declared.

"The 'Declaration of Brasilia' was drafted in advance in exchanges between the two Presidents and their foreign affairs departments. It was made public today just an hour before Eisenhower was due here on his 10-day South American tour.

He flew to Brazil from Puerto Rico, crossing the Amazon and heading for this still-building city which is due to become Brazil's capital two months from now. On Wednesday Eisenhower is to get his major reception in Rio de Janeiro when he lands at Rio de Janeiro, the present capital.

More Fruitful Action

The two presidents' declaration said the improvement of the Americas' living standards is keyed to preservation of world peace and democratic rights. Noting that the American nations already have achieved much, the two presidents said they are "firm in the conviction that action still more fruitful should be taken."

They did not elaborate, but quite possibly will before Eisenhower concludes his visit to Brazil Friday. He is to address the Brazilian congress in Rio, before continuing on to Argentina, Chile and Uruguay.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was designated to read the declaration in English and the Brazilian foreign minister, Horacio Lafer, to read it in Portuguese, at the site of a monument commemorating Eisenhower's visit to Brasilia.

Symbol of Progress

The declaration is to be inscribed at the monument in this spectacular new city, hewn from the wilderness on a plateau 600 miles northwest of Rio.

President Eisenhower called Brasilia a symbol of Brazil's progress.

"Your decision to carve a beautiful city out of the wilderness reminds us of our own decision many years ago to move the capital of our fledgling nation from Philadelphia to the District of Columbia," he said in a brief address prepared for a civic reception.

The address was aimed mainly at Brasilia's construction workers and their families. To those workers and to all others in Brazil, Eisenhower brought special greetings.

Kingston police and state troopers went to the aid of Saugerties mother and her three small children, who were virtually stranded in this city late Monday night.

Mrs. William Phillips, of Centerville, Saugerties, telephoned police headquarters and said she and her children arrived at the Trailway Bus Terminal and had no transportation home.

According to police, Mrs. Phillips said she had tried to contact her husband by telephone but was unsuccessful. Police called the number given by Mrs. Phillips and learned the telephone at the woman's home was either out of order or the receiver had not been replaced.

Lake Katrine troopers were called and Trooper William Weideman came to Kingston and took the woman and her children to their home.

Missing Two Weeks

Willing to Pay Ransom, Wife of Brewer Declares

13 Places . . .

He telephoned Police Lieutenant Gilbert Bailey that someone had smashed a glass in the door of a nearby luncheonette.

Detectives Dominick Frisone and Jack Benton, Sergeant Donald Pudney and several patrolmen rushed to the scene. They found the glass in the front door had been smashed.

Examination of other stores in the Hooker Avenue area was made and police discovered several establishments had been broken into. During the next two hours police toured the south and north sides of Poughkeepsie and discovered a total of 12 burglaries.

No Trace of Prowlers

Search of the city failed to turn up any prowlers. The intruder netted $100 after breaking into Dominick Esposito's grocery store and market at 37 North Clinton Street. Other places victimized by the burglar were grocery and drug stores and laundromats, some on Main Street.

Meanwhile, Town of Poughkeepsie police received a complaint that a Hooker Avenue store in the township had been entered.

Chief Martin said before noon investigation had uncovered, no clues that might lead to the apprehension of the burglar.

Reisman Gets

policy making for the police department.

Called Non-Political

Reisman is a Democrat but his appointment to the Police Department was called "non-political" in New York.

Prior to being named as chief assistant in the Ulster County kickback probe in April 1958, shortly after Tompkins, former Queens senator, was named to head the probe, Reisman had been associated with the New York law firm of Proskauer, Rose, Goetz and Mendelsohn.

A decorated combat veteran of World War 2, having served in the Asiatic theatre, Reisman was discharged in 1947 with the rank of major. In addition to his general experience at the bar, he was for the better part of the year, an associate in law at Columbia Law School, teaching criminal law and torts. For four and a half years he was assistant attorney of New York County under District Attorney Frank S. Hogan, serving in the complaint bureau, indictment bureau and appeals bureau from 1951 to 1958.

Car, Truck Hit On Spillway Road

A car owned by Betty L. Kight and operated by Philip Gordon Kight, 18, of Rt. 1, Box 392, West Hurley, and a New York Telephone Company truck operated by Howard Joseph Allen, 37, of 243 Main Street, Kingston, collided on Spillway Road Monday shortly after noon.

Kight received scalp lacerations and abrasions of the left hand, Allen suffered an injury to his right wrist. James A. Gornis Jr., 13, of Rt. 1, Box 375, West Hurley, received a contusion of the left upper arm, shoulder and face and abrasions. All were taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment.

Deputy Sheriff Charles McCullough and John Seaholm investigated. The Kight car was being operated east on Spillway Road and the truck west, when the report states, the Kight car sideswiped the truck and then ran into a tree. Both vehicles were damaged.

Tamper Plot Is Bared Today of Finch Trial Juror

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jurors in the Finch murder trial, amid reports of a plot to tamper with them, today begin hearing final arguments in the complex case. The task at hand for the opposing attorneys is trying to sum up 160,000 words of often sensational testimony, making the most of their last chance to stress important points.

Seven women and five men will weigh the lawyers' words, trying to decide whether Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his shapely paramour, Carole Tregoff, planned and carried out the murder of the doctor's wife, or whether Barbara Jean Finch's gunshot death last summer was a tragic accident, as the defense claims.

Dr. Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, his former secretary, are charged with murder and conspiracy. Superior Court Judge Walter R. Evans, in the first order of business today, was to rule on defense motions for dismissal or advised verdicts of acquittal on all counts.

The court also will inform the opposing attorneys exactly what instructions will be given the jury as to possible verdicts. Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson conceded Monday that he had heard rumors someone was attempting to approach a juror. Judge Evans said this possibility had figured in his decision to order the panel locked up in a hotel over the long Washington's Birthday weekend.

But McKesson said he didn't have enough information to start an investigation. Evans added that there was nothing to implicate the defense in any way.

One report said the alleged tamper plot was linked to gambling elements and that large sums of money were available. Big sums are said to have been wagered on the trial's outcome, plus pools and handicaps clocking the time the jurors will deliberate.

Uptown Sale Is Extremely Good, Fleming Reports

When asked this morning regarding the results of the Washington's Birthday Sale promotion of the Uptown Businessmen's Association Monday, S. W. Fleming, vice president of the association and manager of Montgomery Wards, stated that it was "extremely good" and "we were pleased with the traffic which lasted all day."

Vice-president Fleming commented on the fact that shoppers were "apparently looking for bargains," and that the "one-day event might well be termed a success."

L. G. Bell, manager of the local S. S. Kresge store, remarked that he had observed customers waiting at his doors for the store to open in the morning. Clyde Wonderly Jr., of Wonderly's, revealed that a considerable number of people were crowded at the entranceway of his store prior to its opening, and "that business was excellent for this event."

Another merchant observed that even the threatening snow storm of Monday, which did not materialize, did not seem to keep the customers away, "and we were busy all day."

Major Budget

Senate Council today. The legislative leaders, who are members of the council, will refrain from voting on the ground they should await developments at tomorrow's meeting.

Mahoney Has Plan

School Aid: Mahoney will present this week a compromise plan designed to resolve a conflict between the governor's proposal to boost state aid to education by 25 million and Carlin's 70-million-dollar proposal. Only about 40 percent of those amounts would be needed in the 1960-61 budget, however. The balance of state aid for the school year beginning in September would not be paid until the next fiscal year, which begins April 1, 1961.

Tax Relief: Carlin holds that school needs mean that "you can just about forget tax relief this year." Mahoney, who had been a leading exponent of tax relief, does not say publicly it is out but reportedly gives school spending preference.

Passage Is Doubtful

Residency Law: Mahoney is chief advocate of the plan to require a one-year residency of persons seeking public welfare support in New York State. But Carlin remains opposed and the standoff is expected to rule out passage of a residency bill this year.

Telephone Tax: There still is no indication whether Congress will allow the 10 per cent telephone tax to expire on the federal level. Rockefeller wants to turn the tax over to school districts to raise an additional 70 million dollars for schools.

Reorganization: Bills calling for initial, mostly minor changes in organization of executive branch have been introduced and leaders expect most will pass without difficulty.

Non-resident tax relief: An administration bill to give non-resident taxpayers relief from what they have claimed are inequities in committee and may run into opposition from lawmakers who hold that any relief should go to residents first.

Wife May Take Stand in Trial Of Ship Employee

BOSTON (AP)—Nella van Rie may be a defense witness at the trial of her radio operator husband, Willem, charged with the shipboard killing of pretty Lynn Kauffman, 23-year-old divorcee.

Defense Counsel W. Langdon Powers said there is a "slight possibility" he may call the defendant's dark-haired wife.

Van Rie's trial, in recess since Saturday noon, enters its 10th day today.

A 33-year-old Indonesian named Gadong, cabin boy aboard the Dutch freighter Utrecht, from which Miss Kauffman disappeared last Sept. 18, was expected to be one of the last prosecution witnesses.

Gadong, flown halfway around the world from Surabaya, may testify about what he did and observed while the Utrecht steamed out of Boston for New York five months ago, resuming a voyage from the Orient.

Lynn Kauffman's battered, half-nude body was found next day, washed ashore on a harbor island. A medical examiner testified she was beaten and kicked before she died of drowning, and other injuries could have been caused if she had been thrust through a porthole of her cabin.

The prosecution contends Van Rie engaged in a romance with the slight Miss Kauffman during the 44-day voyage from Singapore, that a quarrel ended this affair and that the radio operator beat her in her cabin.

Allen Urges New State Formula on Aid to Schools

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The state education commissioner suggests that economic factors and educational needs should be considered along with property values in determining state aid to education.

Commissioner James E. Allen said the present formulas, which use real-property valuations to measure a community's ability to finance education and its need for state aid, were adopted when property was the sole measure of community wealth.

Allen, in a radio interview Monday night (WGY, Schenectady), said population density and the number of students from "culturally handicapped" families should be among the standards used. These would provide more aid for New York and other large cities, he said.

However, use of all economic factors might show a need for less state aid. The other factors, he said, would include the ability to raise more money for schools from non-property sources.

The Democratic administration of New York City and the Republican state administration have been locked in a running political battle over school-aid for the city.

City officials charge the state is short-changing them. Allen said he agreed generally with Republican Gov. Rockefeller that the city was being treated fairly under present formulas.

New York, with high property valuations, has had a lower proportionate share of aid than many other communities. Allen also renewed his earlier stand, that Gov. Rockefeller's proposal for an increase of two per cent in the basic formulas for education aid was "quite small" when compared to Board of Regents estimates that costs would increase six per cent annually.

The Rockefeller proposal is one of several education aid plans before the Legislature.

College of Construction Will Continue Classes

The College of Construction, sponsored by Custom Crafted Homes, Inc., 42 Wall Street, held its third session Sunday at the Hilco model home, corners of Henry, Wall and Fair streets.

James Buchan, developer and plumbing, heating and wiring contractor, was guest speaker. He is well known throughout the entire Hudson Valley. His lecture was both informative and stimulating, bringing out many points of information that the prospective home-builders were not aware of.

Gerald Griffin Jr., president of Custom Crafted Homes, Inc., initiated these classes three years ago as a public service to the members of the community. The popularity of the College of Construction has grown each year, being extremely beneficial to the do-it-yourself home builder and the residents who build by contract. Experts in every phase of home-building from financing to the finishing touches have lectured at every session. These classes have assisted all those who have attended in avoiding the annoyances of home-building caused by the errors made in home construction.

Mr. Griffin plans to continue holding these classes periodically. As in the past, the public is welcome to attend. Anyone who is contemplating building their own home will find these classes most helpful. For information regarding future classes, the office of Custom Crafted Homes will welcome all inquiries, either by phone or a personal visit.

Browning Is 'Good'

A spokesman at Kingston Hospital said this afternoon that the condition of Bob Browning, "dean" of Hudson Valley newscasters is "good." He entered the hospital Monday afternoon for minor surgery and expects to be back at his post in about a week.

$3 Billion Retired Pay for Military Forecast by 1976

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department estimates that retired military personnel will be drawing three billion dollars a year retirement pay shortly after 1975. The retirement program is costing 700 million dollars a year at present but it is due to start shooting up as those who entered service during World War II start reaching retirement age or complete 20 years of service.

Rocky Proposes New Anti-Bias Housing Measure

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller proposed today a broad new, anti-discrimination measure that would cover privately owned multiple dwellings, housing developments and business and commercial space.

Rockefeller asked the Legislature to prohibit discrimination in the sale or rental of any housing accommodations in a multiple dwelling or where the owner controlled the sale or lease of 10 or more contiguous or neighboring accommodations (that is, a housing development).

Would Ban Bias

The proposed legislation would ban discrimination in the sale or rental of all business and commercial space.

Real estate brokers and agents would be expressly barred from discrimination in the sale and leasing of such housing. They would tend to express any limitation as to race, creed, color or national origin.

The governor also urged the Legislature to extend jurisdiction of the State Commission Against Discrimination to include institutions providing financial assistance for the acquisition or repair of housing.

"Such action can have profound significant effects in providing greater housing opportunities for all our fellow citizens," he said in a message accompanying the proposed legislation.

"Experience with the administration and enforcement of anti-discrimination legislation dealing with housing accommodations, both at the state and the local level, clearly establishes the feasibility of extending the good offices of the State Commission Against Discrimination in the field of multi-unit and development housing."

Provides Extension

"The legislation which I am submitting to you with this message would provide for such an extension."

Present law prohibits discrimination in public housing. As under present law, violations of the proposed law would be punishable by fines of up to $500 to be paid to the person who is discriminated against, plus maximum penalties of $500 or 90 days in prison, or both.

Heavy opposition to the proposed legislation is expected from some property owners.

The governor's legislation apparently means the death of the Metcalf-Baker bill, now in committee, which would bar discrimination in all housing except the sale of owner-occupied single-family homes and rentals in two-family houses where one accommodation is occupied by the owner. The Metcalf-Baker bill also would cover the activities of real estate operators and lending institutions.

Support Likely

Most of the groups that have supported the Metcalf-Baker legislation have said they would support a similar measure. Presumably, they will back the governor's proposal.

The governor noted that New York State had pioneered in anti-discrimination in public housing and public places and said "we must together continue these advances."

The governor said the matter of availability of business and professional space to all citizens was "intimately related to the economic health of our community."

"In this area," he added, "we can appropriately supplement the work which has been done in removing barriers to job opportunities by permitting individual initiative freely to seek out a location from which commercial, financial, industrial or professional activity can be carried on."

It said information from the manual had been "taken out of context" and misconstrued.

"The fact that certain tasks or procedures were included in the manual does not indicate that such duties were to be performed regularly by the airman aide as a routine part of his duty," it added.

"However, such tasks might justifiably be required of the aide upon occasion."

"Further, such information would be useful to those airman aides who had responsibility for supervising domestic help (frequently indigenous, in overseas areas) in the officer's household."

The manual, among other information for officers' aides, had rules for mixing drinks, shining shoes, and making beds. It has been withdrawn. Nevertheless, the Air Force defended it in the report it submitted today to a House Appropriations subcommittee.

It said information from the manual had been "taken out of context" and misconstrued.

Larkin Funeral Largely Attended Monday Morning

The funeral of Dr. John F. Larkin, who died Thursday at Albany, was held Monday at 9 a. m., from his late residence, 14 Pearl Street, thence to St. Joseph's Church where at 9:30 a. m. a high Mass of requiem was offered by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly, P.R. Seated in the sanctuary were the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph D. Ostermann, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Austin V. Carey, the Rev. James V. Keating, the Rev. William E. Williams, the Rev. Edward J. Farrelly, the Rev. Joseph L. Kerins, C.S.B., the Rev. Joseph Meenan, C.S.B.

Among the religious groups attending the Mass were delegations of the Christian Brothers of Ireland, West Park, the Sisters of Benedictine Hospital, and Sisters and students of Mother Cabrini School, West Park.

The honorary escorts comprised the medical staff of Benedictine Hospital, the student nurses of the Benedictine Hospital, and the board of directors and employees of the Rondout National Bank.

Responses to the Mass were sung by the children's choir accompanied by Mrs. Frank Rafferty, organist. At the conclusion of the Mass the national anthem was played in honor of the World War I veteran.

During the bereavement hours called at the home. Among them were Monsignor Connelly, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph F. Connelly and representative groups of the Christian Brothers of Ireland, the Sisters of Benedictine Hospital and the Mother Cabrini Sisters of West Park.

Among the groups who called for the recitation of the Holy Rosary were the Benedictine Hospital Nurses Alumnae led by Monsignor Carey; Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus led by the Rev. James A. Dunnigan, and St. Joseph's Holy Name Society led by Father Keating.

Other groups that called were the Ulster County Medical Society and Kingston Post 150, American Legion.

Sunday night an honor guard of the Fourth Degree Assembly, Kingston Council, Knights of Columbus, stood at the bier of the Assembly's late Sir Knight during the hours of repose.

A profusion of floral tributes filled the home and hundreds of spiritual bouquets were received.

Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father Keating, assisted by the delegation of Christian Brothers of Ireland, gave the final absolution and blessing. Bearers were Bernard A. Forst, Joseph A. McNelis, John B. Tancredi, William J. Dwyer Sr., Bernard A. Culotton and Eugene B. Carey.

150 New York Highway Deaths During January

ALBANY, Feb. 22—Motor Vehicles Commissioner William S. Hults reported today that highway accidents in New York State during January cost the lives of 150 persons, five more than during the same month in 1959.

In 134 collisions which resulted in death to 111 motorists and to 39 pedestrians, the report indicated that there had been 133 violations of the traffic laws. Nine of the deaths came in hit-run accidents.

Excessive speed caused 56 deaths; 26 died in accidents when cars were being driven on the wrong side of the road; 22 when drivers did not have the right of way, and five died as the result of accidents traced to reckless driving.

Of the pedestrians killed, 15 were crossing against a traffic signal; 15 crossing between intersections; four while playing or standing in the road; three when coming from behind a parked car; one crossing diagonally, and one while walking with traffic.

Six intoxicated drivers caused as many deaths. Three were speeding; one was driving on the wrong side of the road and two did not have the right of way.

One hundred and seventy-six drivers in all were involved in the fatal accidents.

Second Mountbatten Family Member Dies

LONDON (AP)—A second member of Britain's noted Mountbatten family died today. He was the 73-year-old Marquess of Carisbrooke, last surviving grandson of Queen Victoria.

The marquess was a cousin of Earl Mountbatten, whose wife died Saturday while on a visit to Borneo. He had been ill for some time after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage.

Khrushchev Goes to Bali

SURABAJA, Indonesia (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev flew to the fabled island of Bali today for three days of rest, more spectacles of music and dance and talks with President Sukarno.

Khrushchev was expected to urge once more that the Communist bloc is Indonesia's best friend abroad and the Western Allies its worst enemy, and that Sukarno's government should have a warmer attitude toward the Indonesian Communist party.

Sukarno is expected to repeat his suggestion for Asian and African representation at the Geneva summit talks and Indonesia's hopes for a new and heavy dose of Soviet aid.

Cuba Seizes Paper

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime seized control today of El Mundo, one of Cuba's last remaining independent newspapers, and its companion TV station. The paper and station belonged to Amadeo Barletta, Italian-born industrialist who came to this country as an immigrant and built up a 40-million-dollar empire. The government began taking over his properties Monday, saying it would determine whether he had benefited improperly from ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista's regime.

Outlook Is Good For Dairymen in '60, U.S. Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agricultural Marketing Service reported today it expects the dairy industry to have relatively favorable conditions throughout 1960.

A report on the dairy situation said price relationships—that is, the relation of dairy feed and other production costs to prices received for milk and butterfat—are likely to continue at satisfactory levels reached last year.

"This situation indicates that an upturn in milk production may occur this year," the service said. "Number of milk cows for the year may average higher than in 1959, and a further increase in production per cow is likely."

In fact, the service said, the favorable conditions may cause milk output to increase more rapidly than commercial use of milk or its products during the next year or so. Such a situation could bring, in time, a reversal in the favorable conditions.

Nevertheless, the report said it is possible for cash receipts from milk and butterfat this year to rise to a new record high surpassing the old record of $4,634,000,000 set in 1957.

But some of the increase in receipts may be offset by higher production costs. The report said dairy farmers are optimistic about the immediate future. This was said to be reflected in the stability of prices of dairy cows in the face of recent declines in value of meat animals. Usually when beef cattle prices decline, prices of dairy cows tend to go down too.

Another indication of confidence, the service said, is an increase last year in the number of young dairy animals. Relative to the number of mature cows on hand, young cows were at a record high.

GM Expects 1960 To Be Good Year

DETROIT (AP)—Business was good in 1959. It will be good in 1960.

That's the sum of an annual report to be released soon to some 787,000 General Motors' Corp. stockholders.

In it Chairman of the Board Frederick G. Donner and President John F. Gordon said 1959 was a year of accomplishment. They added that indications point to another good year in 1960.

GM reported record highs for average hourly and weekly earnings of hourly rate employees in this country.

The weekly earnings averaged $116.04 for an average of 39.6 hours worked per week compared with $107.38 and 38.1 hours in 1958. Average hourly earnings came to $2.93.

The company said it employed 557,218 men and women throughout the world last year compared with 520,925 in 1958. The annual payroll jumped from $2,688,000,000 in 1958 to $3,084,000,000 last year. GM predicted a normal domestic market by 1969 of more than 9,000,000 cars and trucks, compared with sales of almost 7,100,000 last year.

The firm recently reported net income of $873,000,000, equal to $3.06 a common share, on sales of $11,233,000,000 in 1959. Profits the year before came to $634,000,000 or $2.22 a share on sales of $9,522,000,000.

The 1959 figures were the second highest in the firm's history, second to 1955 when GM made a billion dollars profit.

Taxes in 1959 came to $1,250,000,000 with 919 million provided for U. S. and foreign taxes on income. In 1958 the firm paid out 482 million in income taxes. Sales and excise taxes amounted to another 915 million bringing a total of ascertainable taxes applicable to operations to $2,165,000,000.

Speaker Named For Technical Writers Meeting

JOHN R. GRUBER

A dinner meeting of the Mid-Hudson Chapter of the Society of Technical Writers and Editors is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 24, at Beekarm Arms Hotel in Rhinebeck.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m., the meeting following at 8 p. m. when John R. Gruber, manager of IBM's product development laboratory photographic services department in Poughkeepsie, will speak.

Gruber will speak on "The Role of the Creative Photographer in Bringing Impact to Industrial Communications." Gruber studied at the Progressive School of Photography at New Haven, Conn., attended the Naval Photographic School at Pensacola, Fla., and was a U. S. Navy photographer during the Korean War. After working as a free-lance photographer, Gruber became a staff photographer for IBM in 1955. He was promoted to staff assistant in May, 1957, and to his present position of manager of photographic services Nov., 1958. Gruber is a member of the Professional Photographers Association of America, and the New York State Industrial Photographers Society.

Saccaman Buys Hilton Building For Office, Homes

Property at 23-25-27 John Street, known as the Hilton apartments and formerly the Loughran building, has been purchased by Attorney Thomas F. Saccaman from Mrs. Mary L. Hilton, 7 Mountain View Avenue. The price was not disclosed.

Saccaman said the first floors will be used as offices and the second and third floors as apartments. There are eight apartments.

Saccaman said he will occupy some of the offices for his law business and will use an office also to transact business as a United States Commissioner. Saccaman said he intends to move his offices from 621 Broadway, where he has been since he left the attorney general's office about 1949.

The property was formerly owned by Chris K. Loughran, an uncle of Mrs. Hilton, the seller. Saccaman said C. Robert Cousins of Craft-Cautitz Associates Realtors, was present when the transaction was closed Monday. Vincent G. Connelly, of Connelly and Connelly represented Mrs. Hilton in the transaction.

Story of Success
NEW YORK (AP)—In brevity of words, this is how to get a musical show produced on Broadway. The show is the lyrical "Beg, Borrow or Steal," a new arrival. Some months ago Betty Garrett sang the 20 songs of "Clara" for a demonstration record which had lyrics by Bud Freeman and music by Leon Pober. The record never got very far, but it gave composer Pober and lyricist Freeman ideas of what to do about their unfinished composition. They did editing and rewriting of songs and story. So, now it appears as a Broadway musical with Miss Garrett singing the starring role to Larry Parks and Eddie Bracken.

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—To meet competition, the natural gas industry is stepping up research on new appliances in the home. It's also looking for more efficient and less costly use in the factory and improved operations by utilities, including manpower expense from the gas well to the meter.

It is also reaching far out into the development of the fuel cell, thermionic and thermoelectric generation. It is looking even farther into the future for a substitute for natural gas just in case. Competition at the moment is from oil and electricity. Sometime in the future it may be from the atom.

The research program of the American Gas Assn. had 14 million dollars to work with last year. It has set a goal of six million dollars a year for its scientific studies, which it hopes to raise soon.

Funds come from only 180 of the AGA's 409 member companies, but the 180 represent 72 per cent of the meters the country uses.

Outlining the gadgets for the home that the industry is seeking to develop or improve, Fred W. Batten, chairman of the AGA general research planning committee, and vice president of the Columbia Gas System Service Corp., lists these:

1. Appliances that will automatically thaw and complete the preparation of frozen or partially baked and partially cooked foods. He thinks the solution may lie in forced convection.
2. Improved individual room heaters. This may help meet competition from electric room-heating and could involve research on less expensive house piping.

This year development of gas infrared burners will get more research attention.

In both heating and air conditioning, the research target is great efficiency in smaller sizes. Batten expects water heaters to be reduced in size without loss in performance.

More generally, the research program is working on transistor techniques to produce a sharp but safe spark in a very small package without connection to electric lines. A goal is to generate electricity for this spark directly from gas heat.

This year the research scientists will step up the study of gasification of shale oil with the aim of making production of pipeline gas from coal and oil shale economically practical.

Plant Reopens After 14-Day Union Walkout

DUNKIRK, N. Y. (AP)—The True Temper Corp. plant here reopened today after a 14-day walkout by United Steelworkers Union members.

The union and the company signed a new contract Monday at Charlestown, W. Va., ending the strike. Details of the pact were not made public. It will run until Aug. 1, 1962.

About 1,250 workers here, and at Charlestown, Saybrook, Ohio, and Geneva, Ohio were involved in the dispute.

True Temper manufactures axes and other implements.

About half the work force at Dunkirk reported today. Full production was scheduled to begin Wednesday.

BROTHERHOOD WEEK

What is true Brotherhood?

The question is timely, for this is National Brotherhood Week, and for this short period of seven days the word will be used freely, in speeches, in editorials and in general conversation.

If it is to mean anything to us in America and throughout the world, the Brotherhood of men must be more than a word. It must come from the heart, not from the lips; it must not be a topic of conversation for a brief week, but a way of life for generations.

The essence of true Brotherhood lies not in its origin so much as in its final effect upon the lives of others.

What does one do for his blood brother? A man defends his brother against all enemies; he helps a brother who is in trouble; he makes allowances for a brother's errors and shortcomings. But most of all, he loves his brother.

The fundamental concept of true brotherhood was given us centuries ago in the simple commandment: Love one another.

If Brotherhood is to be more than an empty word, we must obey this commandment in all our dealings with our fellow men. If the Brotherhood of man is to spread throughout the nation and the world, we must begin with ourselves, in our homes, teaching our children to respect and to honor all others, without regard for differences in race, religion or social status.

Infants in a nursery are true brothers. They know no differences in color of skin or creed until they are taught discrimination by adults. All the hatred and bigotry that plagues our lives could be eliminated if older generations were to stop transmitting these afflictions to their children.

Brotherhood will come alive in our homes and communities only if it is a living force within ourselves.

When we can ask ourselves, "Would I do this to my brother?" and "Would I permit this to be done to my brother?" and let the answers guide our actions, only then will we know the meaning of the word and make it live.

Juvenile delinquency is getting to be a worldwide problem. So exiling the delinquents is out.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. earned more than a billion last year—and everyone who says that's just talk is quite right.

Senator Morse says he's a serious contender for the Democratic presidential nomination. With his chances, he can't very well be a happy one.

THE NEED TO KNOW

Occasionally a reader wants to know why newspapers, including this one, keep pouring out "heavy" news about such things as the tedious course of disarmament efforts, the problems of underdeveloped nations half a world away, the urgent needs of our educational system. Why, such a reader may ask,—do we have to be flooded with such stuff; why can't there be more light, "interesting" news?

The answer is that in these times of swift change and imminent peril the people of a democracy need all the information they can get. Dean Edward W. Barrett of Columbia's Graduate School of Journalism illuminates the point in this manner: "In the years ahead, the nation will have to make decisions of frightening importance on short notice. It will not always enjoy the former luxury of waiting for its articulate citizens to become informed, for public opinion to jell, and for that opinion to make itself felt in government."

The challenge to the press is apparent. It is a challenge that we cannot responsibly fail to meet.

Every question has at least two sides. But the question whether U.S. defenses are adequate seems to have more sides than the Pentagon.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
THEY CAN'T TAKE IT

There must be something about play-acting and politics which disturbs the balance of an individual. I know politicians better than I do comedians, but both suffer from this similar illness which is some kind of a social psychosis that has not yet been described in the books.

Take an upcoming politician. He is usually a good guy, an extrovert, who believes that he ought to be liked because he has never done anything to bother anybody. His task is to put his foot on the first rung of the political ladder and that requires subservience to professional politician. Nobody can get anywhere any other way. Some have tried it by a publicity blitz. Others have tried to be great reformers outside of practical politics but they usually die on the vine. The technical requirement is to be moved upward and onward. Many persons and groups enter into the production of a single political personality. It can truly be said that no politician is a self-made man.

However, the moment the politician arrives, he is a different man. His voice changes. It takes on the coloration of his profession. His talk grows weightier and slower. If once he was an idealist, he is now a pragmatist. His ear becomes elongated so that he can keep it to the ground and hear the tremblings before they become noticeable to the opposition.

Some politicians recover from this functional personality. They revert to their original ways, whatever they may have been, but must protect the image which they have presented to the public.

Actors used to play to small audiences, a few hundred persons who, on the whole, were predisposed to them because they paid to see and hear the actors. Great stars, like Sarah Bernhardt and Richard Mansfield, to cite two instances of the truly great, were fortunate if their audiences amounted to perhaps 1,000 persons. Few theatres existed which could hold many more.

Today, an untrained actor by a slip of fate, might be playing to 10 or 15 million persons on television. Although this is not a select audience nor does he hear its applause, he does follow his rating which is as soothing to his soul as the 3,600 who applauded Robert Merrill in the Metropolitan Opera House. Who needs applause, if he can get at rating?

Suddenly the person to whom $100 looked like real money, even in inflationary times, is earning half a million a year which less taxes and less agents' fees, etc., is still money. He no longer depends upon the quips which brought him to fame. He now hires professional gag-writers and the word, gag, is just right for what they do to him, for "to gag" means to strangle, imitative of the sound made when choking; it also means to retch. Macaulay used the phrase: "The time was not yet come when eloquence was to be gagged, and reason to be hoodwinked."

Well, that gives you an idea of what happens to the comedian when he hires a gag-writer. He is gagged which as a verb means putting something in the mouth both to choke and silence the victim. It also has some effect on the head which becomes unbelievably swollen. This is not surprising for to have an audience of millions of hearers easily could make a person, without the balance of philosophy and the humility of religion, believe that he is a god.

The man who did most for television was no actor. Television owes its existence to such men as Edison, De Forest, Marconi, Alexanderson, Baird, Zworykin and many others who created the device. Give comedians a few years of applause and they begin to believe in their own perfection. They become imperious to criticism. I once asked Eddie Cantor who apart from being a comedian, is also a human being, why comedians always tell the same jokes which we heard when we were seven years old. To this he replied: "There is always somebody who is seven years old."

It is when the comedian imagines himself a sage that he offers defeat. Artemus Ward and Mark Twain did possess sagacity although they were humorists. Will Rogers was one of the greatest comedians this country ever produced. These men did not need gag-writers nor did they have audiences of millions.

Doctor's Care for Hands
Honors Their Inherent Beauty

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

I have a stack of requests for information about care of the hands. Rough hands. Gnarled hands. Split nails. Ridged nails. And the like.

If you'll be patient with me while I answer the long way around, I'll give you a minority opinion about hand care.

Ever since I was a lad, I've been fascinated by hands. It began, I think, when my artist-father taught me to look first at hands when I studied a portrait painting. If you look at a study by Rembrandt, or Hals, you'll see what he meant. The subject of the painting has HANDS, very revealing hands. They're not just a pair of lunch hooks attached to the wrists.

And if you ever get to the Rodin Museum in Philadelphia, you'll see what a great sculptor could do with hands. You'll be fascinated by such studies as "The Hand of God" and the "Cathedral." These are hands that are meaningful. They're hands that symbolize the accomplishments and aspirations of our civilization.

Now if you'll compare these hands with the hands that are idealized in cosmetic ads, you'll see something else again. Smooth hands, tapering fingers and enameled nails ending in sharpened talons like those of a ferocious animal.

These are hands that symbolize the uselessness and vanities from which the modern woman has gained emancipation. Or so I thought in my male innocence.

If you're looking for advice on how to have your hands look like those of the expressionless doll-women in the ads, read no further. You're not for me. And I'm not for you.

If you want your hands to be useful members of society and to reflect some of the dignity of womanhood, here are some recommendations:

Protect your hands while you do your kitchen or laundry work with a thin film of a preparation of silicone oil. You can use the same products I recommended for the scalp that shed dandruff scales and that some of you said you had difficulty getting. (Silicone and Silicare.)

Avoid chemical cuticle removers. They damage the nailbed and cause most of the ridging and splitting you complain of.

Buff your nails, if you must. But avoid dyes and enamels. Some of these cause eruptions, usually of the upper eyelid, in patients with allergic sensitivity.

Cut your nails short and with a gentle arch, at most. The claw is a menace to your stockings, to your loved ones, particularly babies, and to you when the protruding nail pulls the fixed portion from the underlying nailbed.

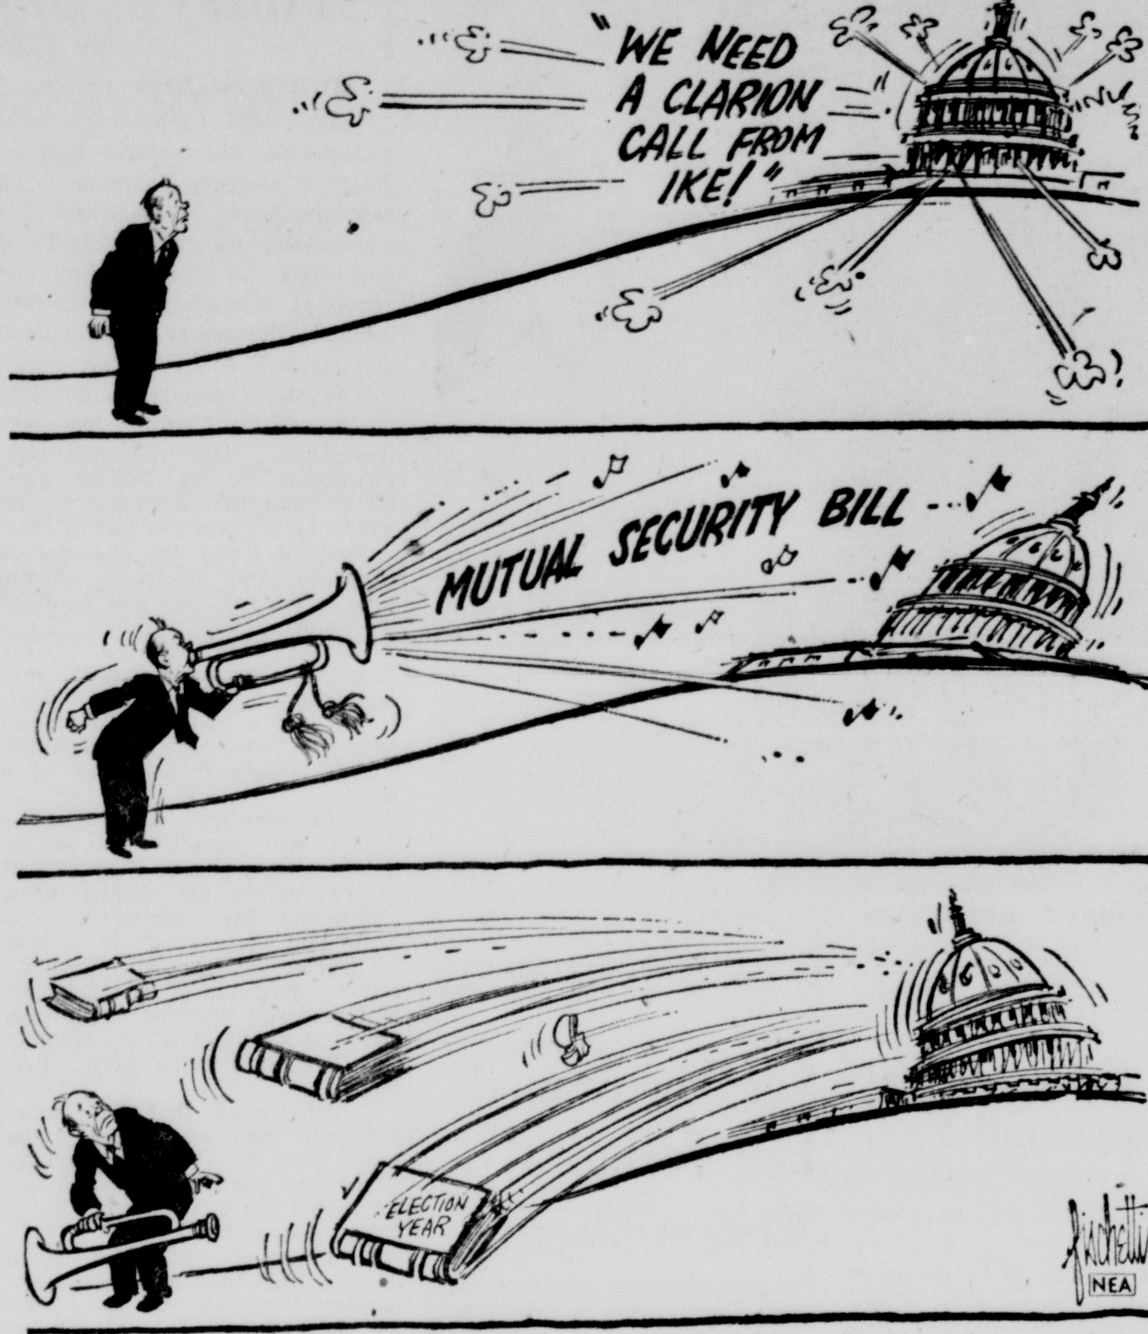

If your hands are gnarled and have small cysts that occasionally break, don't go chasing an "arthritis cure." Nothing will dissolve them. They're part of your family inheritance and you might as well wear them with pride.

And if your friends who reject my recommendations stamp me as a man without an eye for beauty, you might like to quote Auguste Renoir, the French impressionist:

It is lovely to paint a woman's hands. But they must be hands used to housework."

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Biggest pitch made to President Eisenhower on his South American visit will probably be for more aid. The Latin Americans' contention is that the United States has been neglecting them.

The record shows, however, that the four countries which the President will visit—Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Uruguay—have had authorized loans and grants of over three and three-quarter billion dollars since the end of World War II. This has come from U.S. and UN agencies.

THIS MAY NOT HAVE been as much as three of the four wanted, on a give-away basis. Uruguay is the exception. But loans have been advanced as fast as they could be absorbed, serviced and paid back. Today over 800 million dollars' worth of credit unauthorized, but not yet drawn on by Argentina, Brazil and Chile.

This is all U.S. government or international agency economic assistance. It does not include U.S. military assistance nor credits from other countries. Nor does it include U.S. or other foreign private investments which have had to operate at a handicap in some fields like oil development.

BRAZIL HAS HAD THE most loan help. From U.S. Export-Import Bank it has one and three-tenths billion dollars in authorized credits, with 991 million disbursed.

There is also an eight-million-dollar credit from International Finance Corp. From the World Bank, Brazil has received 157 million on an authorized credit.

of 223 million. From International Monetary Fund, Brazil has drawn 92 million.

Argentina has received 243 million dollars from an authorized 517 million Export-Import Bank credit. There is another four and six-tenths million credit from International Finance Corp. World Bank has disbursed 40 million dollars out of a 63-million credit to the Argentine. She has drawn 147 million from Monetary Fund and has another 70 million available on a standby basis.

Chile, with a declining gross national product and a declining per-capita income, has presented special problems. It has used up its credits at a faster rate than Argentina and Brazil. Chile has drawn 231 of a 260-million-dollar credit from Ex-Im Bank and 48 of a 53-million credit from World Bank. Chile has also drawn 41 million from Monetary Fund.

URUGUAY, SMALLEST OF the four, has received little foreign aid because, frankly, it didn't want it. The country has borrowed only 17 million dollars of an authorized 49-million credit from Ex-Im Bank. It has borrowed nothing from World Bank and drawn nothing from Monetary Fund.

Argentina has been the biggest beneficiary of U.S. economic aid programs in Latin America, having received 704 million dollars since 1948. There are now 22 U.S. technical assistance projects in education, labor training, civil education and livestock improvement.

But they are financed now by Argentina peso receipts from the sale of 62 million dollars' worth of U.S. surplus farm products.

WHAT IS POPULARLY known as the U.S. Point Four program really got its start in Brazil back in the 1940s. It has received 30 million dollars since 1948. It began as a health program in the Amazon valley. It was 90 per cent U.S.-financed and staffed at the start. Then 2,000 Brazilians were trained in the U.S. for the work.

Today, this program is 97 per cent staffed and paid for by Brazilians.

Other U.S. technical aid to Brazil—six and six-tenths million dollars this year—goes for education, labor training, public and business administration. The big program now is to train 25,000 equivalents to U.S. county agents.

The cost-of-living index in Chile having gone up 2,000 per cent since 1952, under ruinous inflation, the major U.S. technical assistance is in agriculture. Up to last June 30, 16 and six-tenths million dollars had been advanced for this training. This year's aid is three and four-tenths million.

A one and seven-tenths million-dollar U.S. public health program for Uruguay expires June 30. But Uruguay is now negotiating a new general technical assistance agreement which every country must sign before it receives U.S. aid.

Rosendale Church Circles Assemble

The following is a report of circle meetings for February for the Guild for Christian Service of the Rosendale Reformed Church:

Dorcas Circle, under the direction of spiritual secretary, Mrs. Robert Grupe, held a Scripture reading and prayer leading into the discussion of "Hymnbook of the Ages." Excerpts from "God Has Spoken" were given from which the psalm portion was read.

Mrs. LeRoy Constant reported on the classification of the psalms and Mrs. Henry Meigel on the five books of Psalms.

Mrs. Vincent Brancato, education chairman, gave a mission report on Kentucky as well as reading a questionnaire on Christian citizenship. Mrs. Meigel, service chairman, reported she had sent out some sunshine cards to members of the church.

Members were urged to attend the Family Night to be held at the church on Saturday, 6 p. m. It was mentioned that the Easter Insert Committee will meet soon. Mrs. Herbert Kimmer will be the circle's birthday and anniversary calendar chairman.

The group will circulate the friendship basket to its members soon. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bertrand Burr of High Falls. Members will be prepared to discuss chapters one and two of the "Hymnbook of the Ages."

Mrs. Ferdinand Fiedler, spiritual secretary, led Naomi Circle in a discussion of chapter two of the "Hymnbook" with an explanation of the Psalter, Chapter two and three will be read and studied before the next meeting. Mrs. Harrison Cornish, education secretary, read a survey on Christian Citizenship which the members discussed. Each member of the circle will write a letter to a representative of the government prior to the meeting. Other subjects such as juvenile delinquency were discussed. African missions in the Sudan area were also reported on. The group is planning a fund raising handbag party in the near future. Mrs. Cornish announced that she will sell African violets as her part in the "Day for Christ" being carried out by the Guild.

The consistory will be consulted about the possibility of setting up a mail box in the church. In addition, Mrs. Alexander Maines chairman of the circle, will look into the possibility of saving boxtops to raise funds.

Priscilla Circle met at the home of Mrs. Irvin Smith of Tillson. They read a booklet entitled, "A Promise to Pray" and one on prayer led by Mrs. George Mollenhauer, spiritual secretary. Mrs. Mollenhauer also gave instructions on studying chapter one in the "Hymnbook of the Ages" and explained many points to be found in Psalms 71-90. Mrs. William Kleopfer, Mrs. John Anderson and Mrs. Smith gave book reports. Mrs. Veikko Jalanti will give a book report at the next meeting.

Mrs. Harry Wesp reported on the Sudan and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson told about various items found in the church paper.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Albert Gaines of Rosendale, co-hostess with Mrs. Mollenhauer.

Mrs. Richard Weir, circle chairman, conducted the meeting of Ruth Circle held at the home of Mrs. Albert Schneider, hostess.

Mrs. Schneider, spiritual secretary, led the group in discussing the best method of studying the "Hymnbook of the Ages." Members will be prepared to report on chapter one and some of the psalms mentioned in the study portion at the end of the chapter.

Mrs. Gene Van Winkle, service secretary, reported that she had visited one of the circle members who is in need of overalls and other clothing for her 11-month-old and 4-year-old children.

Mrs. James Schulz, education secretary, read a questionnaire regarding the government in addition to a report on atomic warfare and its spiritual impact. She also read a pamphlet on Africa and some of its problems.

Mrs. Donald Hasenflue, organization secretary, announced that the proposed budget for the Guild had been drawn up and will be voted upon at the next quarterly Guild meeting in April. Members passed a motion that the budget be circulated before the meeting so that it may be studied.

Members were reminded that Mrs. Robert Demarest has cards and gift wrapping paper for sale on behalf of the Guild. There is also some Church stationery which may be purchased. It was reported that Mrs. William Kleopfer a member of the Priscilla circle, is selling secret pal cards, part of the profit from which will be given to the church.

Republican Reply Is Noted To Democrats on Missiles

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Politicians are supposed to be pretty good at picking out issues for an election campaign, but sometimes they fumble the ball. It is beginning to look now as if that's what is going to happen to the Democrats on the "missile gap" and defense issue.

For the critics can't have it both ways—they can't be in the position of urging the American government to accelerate its missile program and at the same time declare that nuclear tests must be abandoned and disarmament negotiations speeded up.

A political party can't be arguing persuasively for more defense on the theory that war is imminent in the next two or three years and at the same time be blaming the Administration for not bringing about disarmament. In fact, some Democrats have insisted that the United States should abandon its nuclear testing whether or not the Russians agree to inspection.

What will the mood of the electorate be next autumn? Will the public be so scared of the prospect of war that it will wish to punish the Administration in power for not having built "enough" missiles for our armed forces? Will the voters believe the President when he says our over-all defense is adequate as a deterrent against attack and that we are not relying on the missile alone or on any one weapon? He isn't running for reelection and will, therefore, wield a powerful influence.

Presumably the Democratic candidates are betting on the idea that the country will vote the Republican administration out of power for allegedly having failed to close the "missile gap."

But what will the Republicans be saying in answer? Already they are getting out charts and tables showing that the Democrats were in charge of the executive branch of the government to January, 1953, and they spent for missiles a total of only $1,155,000,000 from 1947 through the fiscal year 1951.

As for the Republicans, in the fiscal year 1953 they spent $1,160,000,000 on missile programs, and every year thereafter they increased the amounts, so that in 1956 they were spending $2,270,000,000. In 1957 they spent $4,470,000,000 and added to this until they reached nearly $7,000,000,000 in 1959. They have almost that same amount scheduled for the fiscal year 1960.

1947 to 1953 Query
If money is everything and if "budgetary" considerations should have been disregarded heretofore, then the query is what happened between 1947 and 1953 when it is presumed the Soviets got their start?

Also, since the hydrogen bomb is the key to vast destructive power today, why was there a "lag" in developing the H-bomb? Several years elapsed while a battle went on inside the Truman Administration against developing the H-bomb as Russia moved on with her tests. One of the principal scientists in our government who argued against developing the H-bomb was later declared a "security risk," not because of any act of disloyalty on his part but because of his indiscretions in mingling with Communists.

Anyway, the H-bomb "lag" is the most serious of all, and if the "missile lag" is to be a campaign issue, it could be the whole messy story may be revived about how America was held back from developing the H-bomb when we had a start of several years over the Russians.

The principal inconsistency, however, among those who are playing the defense issue so hard in party politics is that no candidate can afford to be pictured as a future President who will be concentrating on how to build up more and more military power at a time when supposedly the nation is anxious for disarmament and a ban on nuclear weapons, including missiles.

When President Eisenhower visits the Soviet Union next June, will the reception he gets tend to emphasize peace as the mood of the hour or will he be looked upon as the representative of a country that is trying to make up its mind which political party is the better "missile rattler"?

War Not a Good Issue

Politically speaking, war has never been a good issue for any Presidential candidate except when the nation is already in one. Both before a war and after a war, there is a popular feeling against the party that is accused of making a war or is later charged with having "dragged us into war."

"Peace and prosperity" is to be the Republican slogan in the coming campaign, and the Democrats will be smart if they use their energies to try to convince the country that there will be neither a war nor a serious disturbance to the economy if they win the election.

Foreign Intrigue

NEW YORK (AP)—A new Broadway play now being cast by producers Robert E. Griffith and Harold S. Prince is "A Call on Kuprin"—a stage dramatization by Maurice Edelmann about two Englishmen who try to win over the services of a Russian rocket scientist for the West.

Members voted to have secret pals in the club.

Mrs. Louis Mastro is in charge of the Easter Insert for this circle's members.

Mrs. Mastro will be hostess for the next meeting to be held at the church on Tuesday, March 15.

Mrs. Schulz will be hostess for the April meeting.

Tillson Guild Resumes Drive

Plans were made to resume the Guild for Christian Service paper drive at the February meeting of the guild held at the Tillson Friends Community Church. Mrs. Robert Morrow is in charge of the drive. All members and friends of the church may bring papers to the shed behind the church.

The group elected the following officers for the coming year: Mrs. Harry Yarter, president; Mrs. Francis Stokes vice president; Mrs. Morrow, secretary; Mrs. Edward Parker, social secretary and Mrs. Randolph Christenson, treasurer.

A report on the Tillson Brownie Troop, sponsored by the guild, showed its initial activities to be very successful with 21 girls present at the first meeting under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Grothkopf and Mrs. Irving Krom Jr. Members voted to give the Brownies a donation to pay for pins and leaders materials.

Several fund-raising projects were discussed. Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Christenson are in charge of the April project, further details for which will be given later.

An appeal was made for a used play pen or high chair for use in the nursery during church service. Anyone desiring to donate one of these items may contact Mrs. Parker.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Yarter, hostess. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, March 15, 8 p. m., at the church.

Family Night Is Set Saturday at Rosendale Church

Fun for the whole family is planned for Saturday night at the Rosendale Reformed Church.

A pot-luck supper will be served at 6 p. m. followed by games and entertainment for the entire family.

Members of the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Maines, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Arnold; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Doolittle, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Grupe and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Van Winkle.

Those attending will bring a covered dish for the supper.

Says Taxpayers Are Liable for Return Figures

Although Federal income tax returns are prepared with assistance provided by an Internal Revenue Service agent, each income taxpayer is responsible for the facts and figures entered in the returns he signs, according to District Director James A. O'Hara.

"In advising taxpayers of this responsibility," the tax official said today, "we must remind them that they are responsible under law for all entries and all supporting documents in their returns."

The Revenue Service, he said, welcomes returns prepared by competent professional persons but such assistance can only rely upon information provided by the taxpayer. Members of the accounting and legal professions usually provide top-notch assistance, the director noted. Frequently taxpayers find business associates in their bookkeeping and accounting departments, and in banks or other financial institutions who are qualified to help them, O'Hara said.

"Again this year," the revenue official said, "we are offering a full program of telephone assistance, which may be obtained from Internal Revenue offices located at the Kingston post office building on Mondays and Fridays between 9 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. by telephoning Federal 1-4556."

The director urges taxpayers here who have a problem to call that number early during the filing period so they may get quick and accurate information.

Holstein Completes Production Records

A registered Holstein cow owned by Ridgely Farms, Stone Ridge, has completed an annual production record of more than 30,000 lbs. of milk.

Actual 354 day production of Ridgely M Proud Queen 3385691 (EX) totalled 32,130 lbs. of milk and 1,174 lbs. of butterfat. She started her record at the age of seven years seven months. Milked three times daily she averaged 42 quarts of milk a day throughout her testing period.

The Ridgely Farms Holstein's production is more than five times that of the average dairy cow. Her record was made under the supervision of Cornell University in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

"A telegram from Exeter, N. H. in 1886, recorded the death of Dr. William Perry, the oldest person in Exeter and the oldest graduate of Harvard College, at the age of ninety-eight years. He was sole survivor of the passengers on Fulton's first steamboat on its first trip down the Hudson, and the connecting link of three generations of progress. He was born in 1788, was a member of 1811 in Harvard, and grandfather of Sarah Orne Jewett, the authoress." This information is from a very interesting book, called "The Hudson—Three Centuries of History, Romance and Adventure" by Wallace Bruce, the Centennial Edition, published 1907.

This author further writes: "The Catskill Mountains are now something more than a realm of romance and poetry or a mountain range of beauty along our western horizon, for, from this time forth the old squaw spirit will be kept busy with her 'Treasury of Tear Clouds,' as the water supply of New York City."

A poem on this page reads, "The majestic Hudson is on my left, The Catskills, rise in my dream; The cataracts leap from the mountain cleft, And the brooks in the sunlight gleam," by Minot F. Savage.

No doubt old boatmen know all about the Hudson tide. This book describes it in part thus: "The tide in the Hudson River is the continuation of the tide-wave, which comes up from the ocean through New York Bay, and is carried by its own momentum 160 miles, growing constantly smaller, until it is finally stopped by the dam at Troy."

The writer continues: "The crest of this wave, or top high water, is ten hours going from New York to Troy. A steamer employing the same time (ten hours) for the journey, and starting at high water in New York, would carry a flood tide and highest water all the way, and have an up-river current of about three miles an hour helping her. On the other hand, the same steamer starting six hours later, or at low tide, would have dead low water and an ebb tide current of about three miles against her the entire way. The average rise and fall of the tides in New York is five and one-half feet, and in Troy, about two feet."

Being these waters pass our way round the clock I thought we might as well know about it, for instance further he writes: "Flood tide may carry salt water, under the most favorable circumstances, so that it can be detected at Poughkeepsie; ordinarily the water is fresh at Newburgh."

I remember tides meant a great deal to us, a number of years ago when we went swimming at the Kingston Point Beach. When it was low tide, no one wanted to go. It used to alternate, one week, low tide in the afternoons, and next week, low tide in the evenings. Of course there is an exact time for flood tide each day. Andrew J. Murphy, III, Superintendent of the Recreation Department worked out a schedule for the entire summer season, last summer so that the swimming public could be told just when it was flood tide and best for going in bathing.

Now Science Stops Useless* Coughing with a Tiny Tablet and a sip of water!

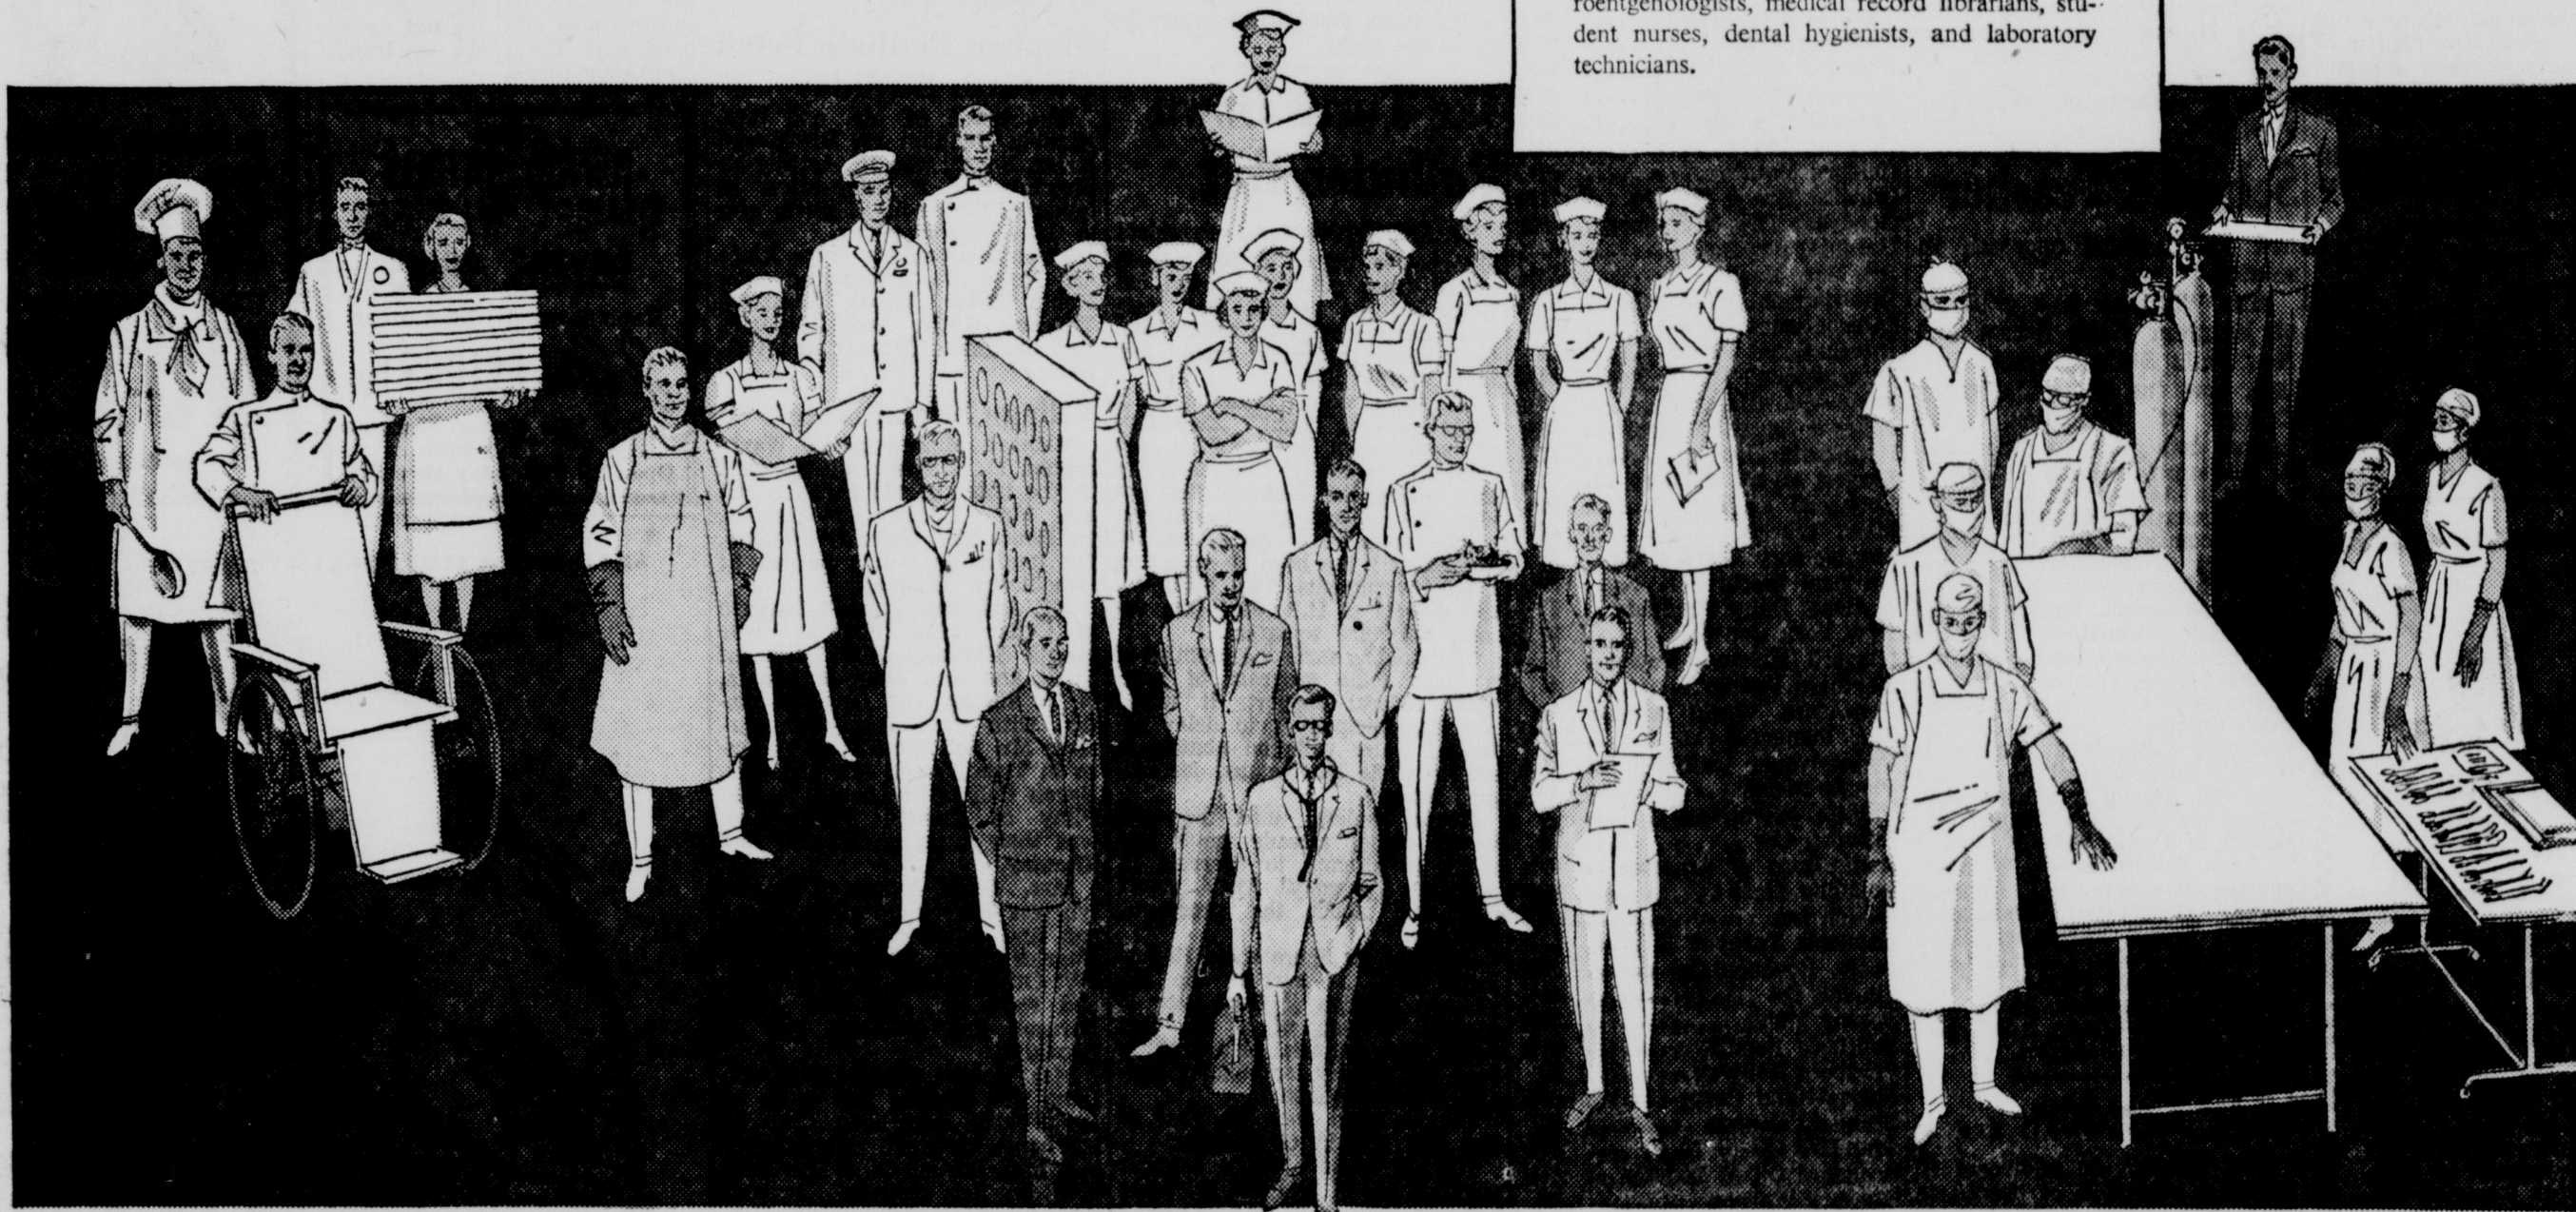

Controls nerves that control coughing due to colds and excessive smoking. Helps break up bronchial congestion—raises phlegm.

NEW YORK, N. Y. (Special) A major breakthrough in cough control is now announced with the introduction to the public of a new anti-cough tablet. It's a tiny tablet...to be taken with a sip of water. Working through the bloodstream, this remarkable tablet stops useless coughing up to 6 full hours. Called DONDRIL Anti-Cough Tablets, this entirely new concept in cough control is now available without prescription.

DONDRIL is a trademark

* What is useless coughing? There are two kinds of coughs: 1. Productive—the occasional useful cough that clears the throat and bronchial tubes. DONDRIL does not interfere with the useful cough. 2. Non-Productive—the nagging cough that racks the body, uselessly, and serves no purpose. DONDRIL stops useless coughing.

What's behind today's BIGGER hospital bills?

Today, a large hospital must have people to fill upwards of 250 different job classifications. Pictured below are just a few of the people who might be required to help you get well during a typical hospital stay.

At right are some of the people who help staff an operating room—surgeons, interns, medical technicians, anesthetists, nurses, and nurses' assistants.

In the center are just some of the personnel from all other departments—X-ray technicians, practical nurses, head nurses, nurses' aides, pathologists, pharmacists, internists, orthopedists, obstetricians, roentgenologists, medical record librarians, student nurses, dental hygienists, and laboratory technicians.

70% of your hospital bill pays for wages and salaries

In a typical hospital, 34% more people are required to serve patients than only 15 years ago. A medical "revolution" is saving lives, restoring more people to health—but it means a bigger hospital bill for you. Here's why:

In 1934, Mrs. Johnson* entered the hospital with a rheumatic heart condition. After 27 days of the best medical care available, she was discharged as "improved." But in a few months she was back—with the same symptoms.

In 1959, Mrs. Holmes entered the same hospital with the same type of heart condition. Like Mrs. Johnson, she was a housewife in her thirties; and, in almost every other respect, their cases were parallel.

Mrs. Holmes also stayed 27 days. But when she left, she was completely freed of her painful symptoms, was again able to lead a normal life. In her own words, she felt "wonderful!"

What made the difference?

The difference was... progress.

In the years between these two cases, a virtual revolution has taken place in hospital care. Today it is saving more lives, restoring more of the once-chronically ill to vigorous health. And, of necessity, it is bringing bigger hospital bills.

Mrs. Holmes, for example, received thirty additional important tests that Mrs. Johnson could not have been given.

Many trained technicians were needed to perform these tests. And, to evaluate the tests, a team of cardiologists, radiologists, clinical physiologists, and surgeons was required.

More specialized skills needed today

The tests showed that Mrs. Holmes needed an operation on her heart—an operation unheard of in Mrs. Johnson's time. The operation required four surgeons, two anesthesiologists (both of them doctors), and a supporting team of nurses and technical assistants.

As you can see, it took a lot of highly trained people to restore Mrs. Holmes' health... and some expensive new equipment, as well. Each one of the forty tests she had required a specialized skill. Each drug used in her treatment represented years of research. The success of her operation represented long years of training and experience for the many doctors who took part.

Shorter hours, higher wages, and more people

Like industry, most hospitals have shortened their employees' work week. Since they must be open 24 hours a day, they have to hire more people. As in other fields, hospital wage rates have increased to meet the inroads of inflation. And hospitals, like everyone else, must pay more for food, linens, dishes, and everything else on their long shopping lists.

Costs more... worth more

In the light of these facts—more employees, higher wages, higher costs—it is hardly surprising that hospital bills must be higher, too.

But it's also true—as Mrs. Holmes will gratefully tell you—that hospital care has never been so effective as it is today.

That's why Blue Cross protection against the rising cost of modern hospital care is worth more than ever before.

*The cases of Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Holmes are taken from actual records at a New York hospital... only the names have been changed.

More Terrible Than Bombs Urges Doctors Be Given Facts About New Poison Gases

Measure to Catch Speeders Passes In Senate Today

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Some senators objected to placing extra power in the hands of "unscrupulous" policemen but the Senate overrode the protests today and passed a measure allowing police greater use of radar in catching speeders.

The bill, backed by Gov. Rockefeller, was passed 44-41 and sent to the Assembly.

It removes the necessity of police chasing a speeder for a quarter mile in a 50-mile-an-hour zone before arresting him. This change would make possible the use of radar on 50-mile-an-hour highways. Radar is in use on 60-mile-an-hour highways such as the Thruway. Some senators claimed that under the bill untrained rural policemen could stand at corners and accuse passing drivers of speeding.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Edward J. Speno (R-Nassau), allows a driver to exceed the speed limit for a quarter mile in emergencies or in passing another vehicle.

The Senate also endorsed a bill to make it unlawful for a motorist to enter an intersection when there is not enough space to accommodate his vehicle.

Sen. Dutton S. Peterson (R-Schuyler) objected because, he said, he often had entered an intersection and found to his embarrassment that the traffic line ahead was too jammed to allow him to get through. Thus he was left in the center of the intersection, blocking traffic going in other directions. He said it was ridiculous to make such accidents an infraction.

The measure was passed 45-8 by the Senate. The sponsor was Sen. Walter E. Cooke (D-Manhattan).

A Senate-approved measure that would speed the return of motor vehicle driver's licenses to operators at the end of suspension periods went to the Assembly today.

The Senate approved the bill Monday night. Speno was the sponsor.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed its recovery drive into the fourth straight session with trading active early this afternoon.

Gains of fractions to a point or so among key stocks outnumbered losers. Some of the "glamour" stocks or specially situated issues rose 3 or more points.

The rebound which began on last Wednesday's climactic session was losing steam, however. Motors and rails erased early gains and moved to the downside. Steels were mixed.

Nonferrous chemicals, tobaccos, nonferrous metals, utilities and mail order-retail stocks accounted for the upside bulge. The market was higher at the start, presented a fairly solid array of plus signs, then began to soften.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .75 to 629.20.

U.S., Brazil . . .

vancing Brazil's development and well-being," he said. "May your hands be firmly clasped with those of the workers of the United States and the entire free world in the building of a richer life in freedom for yourselves, your children, and all generations to follow."

The declaration by Eisenhower and Kubitschek on economic advancement linked to the preservation of peace recalled the American president's emphasis on that point in his talk to the people of the United States Sunday night.

Two top presidents expressed belief that the inter-American system, calling for an ever-improving way of life, presents one of the great challenges and opportunities of this age. They called for full implementation of principles of political and economic solidarity as set forth in the charter of the organization of American states and the mutual assistance treaty of Rio de Janeiro.

The modernistic capital-to-be was decked out colorfully for Eisenhower's first stop on the four-nation mission he hopes will cement western hemisphere unity and forge a mightier shield against potential enemies.

Officials estimated more than 100,000 persons—virtually the entire population of the new city—would turn out to greet Eisenhower. Most of them are workmen brought here for construction of the city. They were given the day off to greet the President.

Along the plaza from which this giant Latin American nation will be governed starting April 21, bulldozers, graders, derricks, trucks and Jeeps were lined up for Eisenhower to review.

This is the wet season in Brasilia, 600 miles northwest of Rio de Janeiro, and decoration of the city was held up until just a few hours before Eisenhower's arrival because of the threat of more rain.

Eisenhower's schedule in Brasilia included a civic reception in the center of the city, the unveiling of a monument commemorating his visit, dedication of the foundation stone for the new U.S. Embassy, and a dinner he will give tonight for Kubitschek.

To Talk Privately

The two presidents will have a chance to talk privately tonight at dinner in the new marble and glass presidential palace. Kubitschek is expected to urge American financial backing for his pet "Operation Pan-America," a sweeping program of economic development for Latin America.

Eisenhower left Washington Monday and flew to Puerto Rico. He talked for 30 minutes at the San Juan airport with Gov. Luis Munoz Marin, then flew on to Ramey Air Force Base, 90 miles from San Juan, where he spent the night.

Ike Turns Down Pollution Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower vetoed a 900 million dollar water pollution control bill today on the ground that state and local governments rather than the federal government should foot most of the bill.

"Because water pollution is a uniquely local blight," Eisenhower said in a message to the House, "primary responsibility for solving the problem lies not with the federal government but rather must be assumed and exercised as it has been by state and local governments. This being so, the defects of H.R. 3610 (the vetoed bill) are apparent."

"By holding forth the promise of a large scale program of long-term federal support, it would tempt municipalities to delay essential water pollution abatement efforts while they waited for federal funds."

House leaders, sure the veto would come, already have laid plans to attempt to override it, perhaps Thursday. They aren't optimistic about the prospects, however.

But they do figure some Republicans may be hurt in the November election if they vote to support a veto of a bill that would offer financial help to cities over the country for building sewage disposal plants.

Today's veto was the first of the new session of Congress.

The bill would continue a water pollution act of 1956 and raise the total of federal funds that could be spent from 50 to 900 million dollars over a 10-year period.

VA Defines Those Eligible to Share In 1960 Dividend

The Veterans Administration has defined those who are eligible to share in the regular annual dividend payment on GI insurance policies in 1960.

This was announced today by George M. Vadas, manager of the VA Regional Office, Albany, in a communication to F. William Sheehan, officer in charge of the five-county VA office in Rooms 201-203, main post office, here.

About 5,073,000 GI policyholders will participate in the 1960 dividends which amount to $253,500,000. Sheehan said that the VA estimates that some 850,000 policyholders will not be eligible.

The participating group includes 4,800,000 National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) policyholders. This insurance originated during World War II and has the letter "V" preceding the policy number.

Also participating are 273,000 World War I policyholders of U. S. Government Life Insurance (USGLI). Their insurance has the letter "K" preceding the policy number.

The 850,000 policyholders who will not receive dividends in 1960 were identified in four groups as follows:

1. About 683,000 Korean and post-Korean conflict veterans who hold special, non-participating NSLI policies which may be identified by the letters "RS," "W" or "RH" preceding the policy number.

2. A group of 100,000 servicemen who, prior to January 1, 1957, placed their "V" or "K" series under in-service waiver of premium payments and who have not rescinded those waivers. These policyholders are prohibited by law from participating in dividend payments while under such waiver.

3. Some 53,000 NSLI and 7,000 USGLI policyholders of extended term insurance in the "V" and "K" series who have allowed their permanent plan policies to lapse. Their policies have been automatically extended by the VA as term policies for a limited time without further premium payments.

4. Approximately 7,000 veterans who hold special NSLI policies granted to disabled veterans during World War 2. These policies, identified by the letter "H" preceding the policy number, are not participating because they are financed by legislative appropriations and are not associated with the USLI or USGLI insurance funds.

Says Matter for NATO

LONDON (AP)—The government said today West German military authorities have asked for storage base facilities in Spain. A Foreign Office spokesman told a news conference: "This is a matter for NATO military authorities and the North Atlantic Council." He added that Britain will make its views known there. It was understood the Germans seek storage space for military and hospital supplies.

7 Persons Perish

In Omaha Blaze

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Seven persons died early today in a fire in a downtown rooming house occupied mostly by old-age pensioners.

Four persons were injured. One, Charles Battles, 58, was in a serious condition with burns over 45 to 55 per cent of his body. Battles was a ball of fire when he leaped from a second story window to icy ground below.

There were 35 persons in the building including the landlady, Clara M. Gillen, 63. Her son, James, said three-quarters of the residents were pensioners.

Gillen identified the dead as Robert Woodford, Dick Scheele, Jack Brashear, Claus Petersen, Ernest Schmidt, Lloyd Canfield, and Andy Vopat.

Sicily Picks Leader

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)—The Sicilian Legislature Monday night chose a 61-year-old independent, Benedetto Majorana Della Nicchiara, to succeed Communist-backed Silvio Milazzo as president of this semi-autonomous island.

Milazzo's year-old regime collapsed last week after charges of bribery and vote buying against one of his chief aides.

The Canadian Shipping Federation and others protested that this would be a costly and unreasonable requirement and the Senate committee rejected the bill.

"The Canadian people seem to be satisfied that this is a much better bill," the aide said.

He said officials of the Coast Guard, budget bureau, commerce department and Canada worked out the compromise at the urging of the State Department.

Opposition Voiced To Bills Curbing Sale of Medicines

ITHACA—Opposition to two legislative bills that would prevent the sale of simple home remedies in stores, other than licensed pharmacies, was voiced today by New York Farm Bureau.

The bills, introduced by Senator Earl W. Brydges of Niagara County, and Assemblyman John DiLeonardo of Queens, would prevent the sale of packaged medicines like cough syrups and headache powders by food stores located three or more miles from the nearest licensed pharmacy. Such general stores have sold these products for many years as a completely safe convenience for their customers.

The proposed new laws would define a "deleterious drug" as one which has a warning or caution on the label or which would be harmful if the entire contents of the package or bottle were consumed at one time, and would permit only a licensed pharmacist to sell them. Through this false standard, any competition for the retail druggist in the sale of these packaged medicines is at once removed, the Farm Bureau says, and no other retail outlet can handle them, even though they are regarded as safe for self-medication under the Federal Food & Drug Act.

The farm organization is also opposed to a recent pharmacy board rule that would outlaw the sale of packaged medicines having a warning or caution statement on the label. The board is composed almost entirely of retail druggists whose regulations have the force of law without any approval of the legislature.

In effect, says the Farm Bureau, the general stores in the country districts, who are licensed by the pharmacy board, are not now permitted by the new regulations to handle many home remedies.

"Farm Bureau members have established the policy that monopoly, whether it be in business, labor, or agriculture is not in the public interest," the Farm Bureau spokesman said.

The organization is calling this monopolistic move to the attention of the Board of Regents in an early letter.

Parsley Is Versatile

When you buy a bunch of parsley there are lots of ways to use it. Add it, minced, to egg salad or tuna sandwiches that are to go into the lunch box; to potato or chicken salad; to cottage cheese to be served with a fruit salad; to a cream-cheese and clam mixture that is to be used as a spread for crackers.

400 Persons See Schweitzer Film

Almost 400 persons attended the showing of the 80-minute film "Albert Schweitzer," Sunday night at the Old Dutch Church.

The Academy Award winning film which depicted the life of the famous "jungle doctor," musician, writer, and noble prize winner realized a total of $226.72, it was reported.

Approximately $150, after expenses (film rental, etc.), was sent to the Schweitzer African Mission Fund.

A new concept is born, with an exciting word to describe it...

SECURANCE

Se-cu'r'ance (sē-kūr'āns), n. A new program for true family security, originated by Nationwide Insurance. A method of providing through one representative all (or part) of one's insurance—life, health, home, car, property; may include car and home financing. Also refers to the unique system of democratic participation through which member-customers help determine direction and scope of company services.

TODAY, SECURANCE becomes a vital word in our language. It rhymes with insurance...it adds to insurance. SECURANCE is insurance-plus. SECURANCE is Nationwide's original new formula to help you plan the financial future of your family.

In 1926 when Nationwide was founded, a new insurance approach was born. Working together with its policyholders, Nationwide decided to provide, through one agent, all kinds of insurance—at low cost. Then, other services, allied to insurance were added. Today, most Nationwide representatives can provide:

- 1 Insurance for your car, home, health, life, family, business...even group insurance coverages—129 plans in all.
- 2 Financing assistance for car purchases and home mortgages.

SECURANCE is your first real opportunity to save while you simplify your security problems. Now one agent can provide you with insurance of all kinds plus financing facilities. In addition, you have the opportunity for democratic participation in the affairs of Nationwide. In fact, our policyholders helped develop this new SECURANCE concept through their representatives (on Nationwide Mutual's Board of Directors) and through their own participation in Nationwide's unique Advisory Committees of Policyholders.

SECURANCE comes in many sizes—a full program to cover every need, or just a single coverage. No matter how much SECURANCE you need, your Nationwide representative has the plan for you.

You'll like the convenience of having one agent take care of all or any of your needs. You'll like the low rates on just about any insurance you need. And you have the added satisfaction of knowing that you can have a voice in determining future services. For like no other big business in America, Nationwide is committed to the ideal of economic democracy.

Call your Nationwide agent today and ask him about SECURANCE—or mail coupon to nearest office listed below for your free Securance Catalog.

(In addition to the services described above, most Nationwide agents are authorized to sell shares of Mutual Income Foundation, a mutual fund. An M.I.F. prospectus can be obtained from your Nationwide agent—or from Heritage Securities, Inc., 246 No. High Street, Columbus 16, Ohio.)

Son Born Today To Jap Princess, Second in Line

TOKYO (AP)—Crown Princess Michiko gave birth today to a healthy, 5-pound, 9-ounce son who became second in the line of succession to the Japanese throne.

The baby is the first child born to Crown Prince Akihito and the daughter of the commoner flour manufacturer he married last April 10. The birth had not been expected for another week.

Akihito, eldest son of Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako, is 26. Michiko is 25.

An announcement said both mother and child were well.

The princess entered the Imperial Household hospital at 1:50 a.m. Monday and the baby was born 14 hours and 25 minutes later.

The delivery was described as natural, apparently meaning without artificial aid of any type. The young father, in accordance with tradition, waited at his home five miles from the hospital. At news of the birth, he rushed to the hospital to see his son and his wife.

Michiko's mother, Mrs. Hidesaburo Shoda, was the only member of the family with the prince for the confinement.

Emperor Hirohito will give the baby his name and title on Feb. 29 in the ancient ceremony of the first bath. Until then he will be known as "shinno," or imperial prince.

The birth aroused widespread public joy.

People jammed the palace plaza to hear the news. Shouts of "banzai! banzai!"—may you live 10,000 years—rang through the square.

A helicopter sent up by a Tokyo department store trailed a streamer "congratulations, birth of imperial child."

Local Woman Is Named President Of Dance Guild

NEW PALTZ — Mrs. Charles Wolbers, local dance teacher, was elected vice president of the Sacred Dance Guild at its two-day workshop held last week in New York City.

This office is a two-year post, and Mrs. Wolbers' responsibility is to preside at all New York City area meetings of the Guild. On Tuesday, Feb. 9, Mrs. Wolbers performed for the group in a service, assisted by the Rev. Robert Storer.

The Sacred Dance Guild is a nationwide interdenominational group dedicated to the promotion of dance as a religious art and the development of the use of dance in worship and religious education. Dance chorists participate in the work of many churches throughout the New York State area.

The Huguenot Dancers, an adult group performing under the choreographic direction of Mrs. Wolbers, have been rehearsing for the past week for their annual spring concert. The program, a matinee for children, will be performed in several local communities starting in Modena April 2. After Easter, Mrs. Wolbers will go on tour, giving master classes and lecture demonstrations in several cities in Pennsylvania.

Square Dance Slated For Friday Evening

William Lewis, a professional square dance caller, and a member of the faculty at West Point, will do the calling at a square dance to be held Friday, Feb. 26 in the basement of the Reformed Church. The music will be recorded, but Lewis will explain and teach the beginners to enable those who have never done square dancing to quickly learn the correct procedure. It is hoped that many young folks will attend.

This is a new venture in entertainment for the young people, and it is hoped that a good crowd will turn out so that more dances can be planned for the future.

Kerk League Holds Discussion Program

The Kerk League met in the Fireside Room of the Reformed Church last Tuesday evening. The program was a "Question Box" presented by the Rev. Garrett Wulfschlegel with a lively question and answer period.

The League decided to establish a special nursery during church hours for children from eight years and up. Some member of the Eendracht will supervise the new nursery which will start March 1.

Plans are under way for the League's mid-year party which is scheduled for Feb. 26 at 6:30 p. m. The affair will begin with a pot luck supper followed by an evening of dancing. Chairmen for the event will be Sue Lent and Jody Johnson.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Jane Hamilton, Doris Goerge, Ethel Savago, Janet Geary and Bernice Hamilton. The tables were decorated with hearts and flowers in keeping with the Valentine theme.

Area Social Notes

A panel discussion entitled "Is Jackson Pollock a Great Artist?" was held last Thursday night at the college. Panel members were George Wardlaw, Ilya Bolotowsky and Robert Lang, art education professors, and Gertrude Robinson, mathematics professor. The moderator was Dr. Hugo Hunsterberg, professor of art history. A question and answer period followed the discussion.

A paint bee was held Saturday at the Reformed Church Educational Building. The ladies of the Kerk League served the lunch.

Mrs. Benjamin Matteson has been chosen chairman for the Red Cross Fund Drive in this area.

Dr. Morris G. Sica, assistant professor of education at the college here, is the author of a recent article on the "Significant Citizenship Behaviors: Children's Perceptions Compared With Adults," which was published in the January issue of the "Florida Journal of Educational Research." The article is based on Dr. Sica's recent research on citizenship behaviors in 12 schools in Florida and South Georgia.

Dr. Louis Salkever was the speaker at the Democratic Club meeting which was held in the Trustees' Room at the Municipal Building last Thursday night.

The Republican Club met Thursday evening in the Firemen's Room at the Municipal Building. Feature of the evening was the showing of "New York's Year of History, 1959," a New York Telephone Company film. Final arrangements were made for the testimonial dinner for Judge Barnes. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kenneth Hotelling and her committee.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — About a month ago a 14-year-old Evansville, Ind., boy was watching an episode of NBC's "The Man and the Challenge" which concerned efforts to cure by hypnosis a pilot who was afraid of flying.

In one scene a disc was whirled, and—according to the account in the local newspaper—something happened to the boy. He thinks he was hypnotized via the filmed television show. Hospital officials treated him and released him, noncommittally.

Apparently, it could have happened. That a susceptible person might react in such a way is something of which television people have long been aware.

"Hypnosis, used for entertainment purposes, could be dangerous," said NBC's Stockton Helfrich, who checks on the acceptability of scripts. "It could be a boomerang. We are exceptionally cautious in this area. We insist, for instance, that in cases where there is an educational demonstration, the eyes of the hypnotist are not looking at the camera."

Ivan Tors, producer of the "Man and the Challenge Story," commented, however, that it seemed unlikely that even a very susceptible person could have been affected by the very brief sequence.

He added, however, that "television itself can have a hypnotic effect."

If one is susceptible to hypnosis, however, one doesn't need TV or any other assistance.

One of the research firms recently sampled public recognition of well-known Americans. The survey (by R. H. Brushkin Associates) indicates 85 per cent of all adults could identify Richard M. Nixon; 71 per cent, John F. Kennedy—but that 91 per cent knew Arthur Godfrey.

Completes FTC Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diamond Crystal Salt Co. will dispose of its property near Watkins Glen, N.Y., on Seneca Lake to conform to a Federal Trade Commission order.

Diamond Crystal, of St. Clair, Mich., consented to the order, the FTC said Monday.

It obtained the property in 1957 by acquiring the Jefferson Island Salt Co. of Louisville, Ky.

The FTC had charged that Diamond Crystal's acquisition of Jefferson Island might substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly.

Cusick, Veteran Assemblyman, Not After New Term

AUBURN, N. Y. (AP) — Rep. Charles A. Cusick of Weedsport, who represented Cayuga County in the state Assembly for 14 years, says he will not seek re-election.

Cusick, 47, a Republican, had been mentioned as a possible successor to Joseph F. Carlino of Nassau County as Assembly majority leader. Carlino succeeded the late Oswald D. Heck as speaker.

Charles A. Schoenbeck of Syracuse was given the majority leader's post.

In a statement Monday, Cusick said increased responsibilities in the Assembly had made it impossible to devote sufficient time to my family and law practice and also conscientiously fulfill my legislative obligations.

He is chairman of the Assembly committee on banks and the joint legislative committees on motorboats and fire laws.

Mental Hygiene Favored as Part Of Legislature

New York State Association for Mental Health has proposed that a standing committee on mental hygiene be created in the Senate and in the Assembly, according to a statement made public today by the organization's president, Mrs. Edward W. Briggs Jr.

Robert L. Sabin, president of the Ulster County Association of Mental Health, together with other members of the New York Association for Mental Health, conferred with Governor Nelson Rockefeller in Albany Feb. 18.

Resolutions to achieve the creation of the standing committees have been introduced in the Legislature this week by Senator E. Ogden Bush of Walton, representing this Senatorial District, and by Assemblyman Grant Johnson of Ticonderoga.

"We vigorously support these resolutions," said Mrs. Briggs.

It was further reported that such standing committees were supported by the Mental Hygiene Committee of the New York State Bar Association, for New York State Association of Boards of Visitors of State Mental Institutions, the Community Service Society of New York City and the Mental Health Workshop of the Little White House Conference on the Aging (sponsored by the Community Council of Greater New York).

Many Unsolved Problems

Influence Dwindling Union Leaders Confess

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor unions are in a slough. By their own appraisal they're stuck in the mud of their own unsolved problems.

The disturbing thing — if there is value in some measure of balance between labor and management in America — is that organized labor's leaders see their influence dwindling and don't quite know what to do about it.

Membership Slipping
Their membership is slipping. They still tolerate strength-sapping feuding between unions. They say employers are giving them an awful kicking around. They claim both political parties are so conservatively dominated that organized labor is practically a political orphan.

That is the agonizing analysis of the state of organized labor by union leaders themselves at a recent series of winter meetings. They are working on all the problems, but in a sort of half-hearted way that lacks the old crusading spirit.

Take organizing. When the rival AFL and CIO merged in late 1955 one goal was a giant revival of organizing activity.

Yet after four years of merger the AFL-CIO, with an estimated 13½ million members, reported the other day that union membership hasn't kept up with the growth of the labor force. About six workers out of 10 are still outside the union fold.

What's worse, from the union standpoint, is that the complexion of the work force is rapidly changing. New machinery is reducing the number of production of "blue collar" workers, while the ranks of technical or "white collar" workers are steadily growing.

Union organizing is still geared to the production worker and the craftsman. The unions realize they must use different techniques to attract the "white collar" wage earner. But they haven't yet found a successful formula.

New labor law restrictions, the unions say, have hobbled their traditional organizing methods. They are still running into antagonistic public opinion resulting from the labor racket scandals. And in these times of relative prosperity workers are not too receptive to organizing.

Despite all its troubles, the merged AFL-CIO is sticking together. Many of the rival leaders are still distrustful of each other. But they feel more secure together than divided.

Much of the merged organization's strength and resources are frittered away in internal scrapping. Fuzzy jurisdictional rules dividing the types of work the members of each union are supposed to perform are constantly being crossed with consequent retaliation.

The AFL-CIO has been working on various plans for peaceful settlement of these internal disputes, but none have jelled.

Employers, perhaps fearful the merged AFL-CIO would become more powerful than it has turned out to be so far, have tended to close ranks and stiffen their resistance to union demands.

Success Doubtful
Labor leaders point, as examples of this, to the recent lengthy steel and meatpacking industry strikes. Employers in the railroad and airline industries have built up big strike insurance or mutual aid funds.

Concern over a worsening labor-management relations climate led George Meany, AFL-CIO president, to ask President Eisenhower to sponsor a high-level conference of employers and union chiefs.

Eisenhower said he favored the idea, and such sessions are likely to take place in the coming weeks. But observers are doubtful the meetings will succeed. One of the reasons is union labor's admitted relatively weak position on the current economic scene.

Legend Into Play
NEW YORK (AP) — A new musical comedy called "Camelot" should arrive on Broadway in the fall. The story, by Alan Jay Lerner, is based on the legend of King Arthur. Producer-director-author Moss Hart will stage the production.

Food Technician Is Stricken at Lecture

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — Dr. Carl R. Fellers, 66, of Amherst, a nationally known food technician, died Monday at St. Ann's de la Pocatiere, in Quebec.

Dr. Fellers, a graduate of Cornell University, was delivering a special lecture at the school's fisheries when stricken.

He invented methods of pasteurizing dry foods and for canning Atlantic crabs.

In addition to his wife, five sons and three daughters, he is survived by three brothers, George and Ray Fellers of Mexico, N. Y., and Alva Fellers of Syracuse, N. Y.

Salvage Ship Is On Way to Help Beached Vessel

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP) — A huge salvage vessel headed north from Florida today to attempt to float the Swedish freighter Monica Smith from the beach at Race Point.

The ship's owners called the New York salvage firm of Merritt-Chapman & Scott to take over after another unsuccessful attempt to pull the 258-foot vessel off the beach Monday.

The New York firm dispatched its largest salvage vessel, the 221-foot Curb, from Key West, Fla., to Cape Cod. It is expected to arrive in about three days.

The freighter, 2,605 deadweight tons, ran aground Saturday night while rounding Cape Cod on a run from Fall River to Halifax, N.S. The crew of 29 has stayed aboard and the vessel is not considered in danger.

Repairs to His Artificial Limb Ends Drug Cache

NEW YORK (AP) — Angelo Alejandro, 28, is nicknamed "No Lefty" because he lost his left arm years ago when he was thrown from a horse in his native Puerto Rico.

Police raided No Lefty's apartment in the Chelsea section Monday on a tip he was selling narcotics to merchant seamen.

"What are you guys doing working on Washington's birthday?" No Lefty inquired.

"Like the other guy, I can't tell a lie," No Lefty said, pointing to an orderly file he kept for his business.

Police said they found $5,000 worth of pure heroin in the file—neatly catalogued under the letter H.

No Lefty told them the heroin was there because his artificial left arm was out for repairs. Usually, he said, he kept the narcotics in the hollowed-out limb.

He was charged with possession of narcotics with intent to sell.

Dirksen to Answer Charges

Defense Debate Likely To Delay Action on CR

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fresh battle over the state of the nation's defenses seemed likely today to delay the Senate's languishing debate over civil rights legislation.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois had priority after the transaction of routine business for an answer to charges made last Friday by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.).

Charges Misleading
Symington, a likely but unannounced candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, charged that the Eisenhower administration is misleading the American people on facts about Soviet missiles and military strength.

Although Republicans fought back at the time, Dirksen's reply seemed likely to put something of an official GOP stamp on the contention that Democrats are seeking political advantage in the argument over what they call, the missile gap.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.) took this line in accusing the opposition of misleading the people by playing what he called a numbers game.

Saltonstall, top Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee, told the Sons of the American Revolution here Monday night that the only true appraisal of U. S. military strength rests on a qualitative, rather than a numerical, basis.

Rep. William E. Miller (R-N.Y.), chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee, took a similar rap at the Democrats.

'Sick of Pessimists'
"I'm getting a little sick," he said, "of the perennial political pessimists who are willing to sell America short to further their own political careers."

"The record shows," he added in a statement, "that the Symingtons, the Humphreys, the Johnsons and other Democrats—some-already eyeing the White House two years ago—were the loudest forecasters of economic doom and the noisiest clamorers for vast federal spending programs and make-work projects. . . . They were wrong about the depression, and they're wrong about our military might."

With Democrats preparing to answer Dirksen, the Senate seemed in for another day with little mention of the civil rights proposals before it. In a 6½-hour session Monday, which included the reading of Washington's Farewell Address, there was no mention of the subject.

Toboggan Brings Out Youth Hurt on Hike

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—Roger Birtle, 13, was reported in good condition today in a hospital after state and city police rescued him by toboggan from a wooded area.

Birtle suffered a broken leg Monday while on an all-day hike near the city's outskirts with three other Boy Scouts. Two of the boys built a fire to keep Birtle warm while the third ran for help.

Police said Birtle caught his right leg in a tree stump as he slid down a hill.

After emergency treatment by a physician, the boy was bundled onto the toboggan for the ride to the nearest road.

Mr. John Comstock Visits Children and Grandchildren

Mrs. John A. Comstock of 317 Lucas Avenue has left on a trip to visit her children and grandchildren. Her travels will take her to visit her daughter, the former Jean Comstock, now Mrs. Ford Mattice 2nd, and grandson Ford 3rd, and granddaughter Carol Jean, at 115 Pelican Drive, Eau Claire, Cape Canaveral, Fla. Mr. Mattice is employed in the atomic division of General Electric Company for the Nautilus Submarine. The Mattice family will transfer to Charleston, S. C., to the Polaris missile project in April. Mrs. Comstock's youngest son, Albert Leslie, resides with the Mattice family and is employed by the Convair Astronautics Branch of the General Dynamics. He expects to complete his senior year at college this year.

Mrs. Comstock will return via U. S. Marine Base at Quantico, Va., to visit her elder son, Lt. John S. Comstock. Lt. Comstock is married to the former Marilyn Sue Aiken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Douglas Aiken of Kenmore, Buffalo, and resides in Fredrickburg, Va. A visit will also be made with Miss Mary Chloé Comstock, now Mrs. John Singarella in Weymouth, Mass., and grandchildren John and Lynne. Lt. John Singarella, since graduation from Boston University and U. S. Army discharge, has with two brothers taken over the road and seaway construction business founded by their father, Antonio Singarella. Mrs. Comstock expects to return home by May 1.

MEETING AT THE UNITED NATIONS—Otto Wittmeier, of Albuquerque, L. I., Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Professor Seldon Kruger of State University Agricultural and Technical Institute at Delhi; and Velma Clark of Delhi, discuss the special seminar attended by students of Delhi. Among those attending was Richard Baright of Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Roosevelt Speaks to Delhi Tech Students in Seminar at United Nations

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt spoke to the Delhi Tech students who participated in a special two-day seminar at the United Nations as guests of the international organization, and said, "No longer can we in the United States separate domestic and foreign policy. Today they are inter-related, with domestic policy having ramifications on the international level." To illustrate her contention, Mrs. Roosevelt stated that present U. S. agricultural policy is misunderstood abroad, creating a result anti-American feeling. "Asians and Africans who go to bed hungry every night cannot understand why we pay farmers not to grow food when there are millions in the world who live at less than a subsistence level."

As a world leader, Mrs. Roosevelt said, the United States should re-examine its agricultural policy. In answer to a question by a Delhi student, Mrs. Roosevelt remarked, "The original intentions of Fidel Castro were good. However, he does not know how to form and run a government." Since Castro has few trained men who can conduct the affairs of government, he is being forced to concentrate power in his own hands. In the future, Mrs. Roosevelt, who for many years was a U. S. delegate to the U. N., held that this concentration of power might lead to Castro's being faced with demands for freedom.

Earlier the Delhi students heard Paul Rao, the Cuban Minister to the United Nations deny that the Castro government is dominated by Communist influences or that it is anti-American. Acknowledging that Communists hold lower level government positions, Minister Rao said that no political group would be permitted to stand in the way of Cuban Independence and economic growth.

During the two-day seminar at the United Nations Headquarters, Delhi Tech students met with George Whiddington, Deputy Chief, U. N. Department of Public Information; Eduardo

Work Keeps You Healthy Says Best-Seller Writer; Retirement Just Isn't Good

If you want to live long and enjoy it, never stop working, says Anita Rowe Block, a vibrant and strikingly attractive wife and mother who recently took up writing novels with considerable success.

Her latest best-seller, "Necessary End," relates the problem of a successful executive suddenly stricken with a heart attack at the height of his career. His decision to get back into the stream of life, regardless of the consequences, is her theme.

"When any person, man or woman, stops activity, he stops living," she says. "The only salvation is to keep busy and interested. Retirement is the worst thing that could happen to anybody. Who wants to be a venerable vegetable?"

'Night Must Fall' Opens Wednesday; Plot Is Announced

Just how serious can be the consequences of being shut out of love and affection is illustrated in an adult fashion in the murder melodrama called "Night Must Fall," which is being presented by the Coach House Players on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday at the George Washington School.

The unholy trio whose psyches are laid bare in this Emlyn Williams play, and whose erratic conduct provide chills and shivers for audiences, all got that way because they were unloved and, ultimately, became incapable of loving.

The most virulent of the three case histories detailed in "Night Must Fall" is that of the central character Dan the bellboy. He feels only one emotion for other people—hate. In fact his hatred is so monstrous that it leads to homicide.

Olivia, the love-starved niece of one of Dan's intended victims is something of a female counterpart of the play's cutthroat. She is morbidly fascinated by the killer and his brutal deeds. She is the only one in the lonely cottage in the woods who knows that Dan is the fiend at large. However she hides the evidence that will condemn him.

Finally there is the old lady Bramson, Olivia's aunt. She has always been denied real affection. As a result she is all too eager to listen to the palaver of the young silky-mannered Dan.

The strange characters depicted in "Night Must Fall" are extreme and dramatically intensified examples of the hideous conduct that can result from a lack of affection, usually stemming from a loveless childhood.

In the Coach House presentation of "Night Must Fall," these key roles will be played by James Flynn as the homicidal Dan, Rose Helen Mellert as the frustrated Olivia and Eve Wulf as the elderly Mrs. Bramson.

Hudson Organist Will Give March Recital

The Hudson-Catskill Chapter of the American Guild of Organists will sponsor an organ recital by Loton E. Springstead at Christ Church (Episcopal), Hudson Sunday, March 13 at 4 p. m. This concert is open to the public and the local Organ Guild Chapter extends to all area residents an invitation to hear this program of classical organ music.

Having come to Hudson in April 1959, Mr. Springstead has already been known for his activity in many musical organizations and events in the area. He is the dean of the Hudson-Catskill Chapter, American Guild of Organists; organist and choirmaster of Christ Church, Hudson; accompanist for the Mid-Hudson Oratorio Society; and this year is serving as the guest conductor for the 1960 Festival of Youth Choirs to be held in the Hudson Reformed Church Sunday, March 6 at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Springstead received his musical training at Tufts College, Boston University and the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, and was a student of E. Power Briggs, the well-known recitalist and recording artist. He studied liturgical music with Dr. Everett Titcomb of Boston, who is recognized as one of the most outstanding authorities on liturgical music today.

The recital program will be divided into two parts: the first portion will be devoted to works of the "old masters" of organ literature, Bach, Buxtehude, Handel and Muffat; the second portion will emphasize contemporary American composers for the "king of instruments," namely, Powell Weaver, Everett Titcomb, Joseph Ciokey, Alec Rowley and Rene L. Becker.

Also assisting Mr. Springstead for this program as guest artist will be Mrs. Albert Fenn, well-known area soprano soloist. Mrs. Fenn will present a group of selections by Handel, Dvorak, Durante and Mozart and will bring to her listeners the charm and sincere interpretation of the great masters of vocal music.

Good Taste Today

SHARING FOOD WITH TRAIN COMPANION

Dear Mrs. Post: Just recently I took an overnight trip to another city. Seated beside me was a very nice young woman. I had taken some cookies and candy with me to eat on the trip. I didn't offer any to the young woman beside me as I didn't know whether it was the right thing to do. However, I felt rather selfish sitting there eating and not offering her any. I would like to know what is proper in this situation.

Answer: It can be assumed that if the young woman had wanted to eat during the trip she would have brought her own food and it was not necessary to offer her any of yours, especially if you had not known her.

An Unusual Invitation

Dear Mrs. Post: I have received an invitation to a wedding addressed to me alone. My husband is to take part in the wedding and therefore was not included. I would like to know whether this is proper. I feel that in spite of his participation in the wedding, we both should have been included. Am I correct? Am I to answer for myself alone, or should I include his name in the acceptance?

Answer: Most correctly, the invitation should have been addressed to Mr. and Mrs. However, since your husband is taking part in the wedding and his presence taken for granted, the omission of Mr. was not very serious. At any rate, you answer for yourself alone.

For Wear With Tuxedos

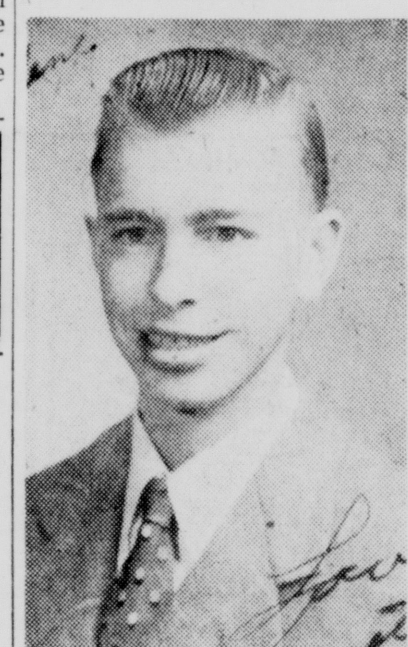

Dear Mrs. Post: Are soft shirts with attached collars correct with tuxedos instead of the stiff bosomed shirt and wing collar? That is what so many men seem to be wearing.

Answer: Quite correct in the country or in hot weather. Indeed even in our cities the stiff bosomed shirt and wing collar is being replaced by the pleated shirt and turned down but stiff collar.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-28, entitled "Housewarming and Surprise Parties," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Colonial City Lodge Will Sponsor Party For Area Teenagers

Colonial City Lodge 733 will hold an afternoon party Sunday at 3:30 at the Elks Home, 42 Cedar Street.

The event has been scheduled for young folks for the purpose of organizing a Junior Herd (Young Elks).

Members of the Junior Herds of Poughkeepsie and Albany will also attend. There will be free refreshments and dancing.

YWCA Social Is Success

Teenagers have been gathering at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue, recently to attend dances, play ping pong, cards, watch television sponsored by the newly formed "Cellar Club."

The club is open each Friday from 7:30 p. m. to 11:30 p. m. and any high school student is admitted for a nominal fee.

A Board of Governors, consisting of Sharon Lawrence, chairman, Jane LeFever, secretary, Sharon Farber, Kathy Fitzgerald, Brian Feeney, Bob Roarson, Bob Andersen, Jack McGarry, and Tom Fitzgerald, oversee activities. The board has set up rules for the operation of the club.

Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald and Miss Mary D'Agostino, teenage director, are advisors and chaperones.

The Cellar Club has been deemed a successful venture.

Cutting Down on Help

NEW YORK (AP)—More and more Broadway playwrights are agreeing with the economic restraints of theatrical producers. In plotting their stage stories they are cutting down on the number of players and the changes of scenery needed. Newest in this trend is "Under the Yum Yum Tree," a comedy by Lawrence Roman which demands a cast of only four people. It is a love story placed in San Francisco today.

YMCA News

Better than 200 mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters, attended Family Night at Kingston YMCA Saturday night.

They were greeted by Mrs. Julia Van Valkenburg of the Parent's Committee, Frank Rebollo, youth director and Richard Case, physical director.

From 7:30 to 9 p. m., those attending took part in a variety of gym games. Robert Rundle and Jack Lewis of the YMCA Leader's Club assisted Case in the gym. A group of 40 were swimming under the supervision of Ernest Peterson who was assisted by Thomas Wadnola and John Quick.

The remaining group took part in social games and tournaments directed by Rebollo, assisted by Mrs. Mary Berryann, Dale Natole and James Varga.

At 9 p. m., Mrs. Anita Locke, chairman of the Parent's Committee, Eve Oskay, Christian Beck and other parents of the Parent's Committee served refreshments.

Willis Locke, member of the physical committee, and Jack Purvis, YMCA board member, assisted the Parent's Committee.

This program also was the conclusion of "Marathon Week" which began Feb. 15. The winners will be announced.

Methodist Men Hear Exchange Student's Talk

Methodist Men of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church held a family-fare covered dish supper meeting Monday evening in Epworth Hall where some 80 members and their families gathered for the occasion.

A feature of the evening program was Miss Carolyn Myer, Hurley, a student at Kingston High School who spent two months abroad in Finland, last summer as an exchange student.

Miss Myer showed color slides of her visit and narrated her program with interesting comments.

Miss Myer said she had crossed the Atlantic on a Dutch Liner last June. She was one of 62 students visiting Finland. Over 800 students visited European countries last summer under a program sponsored by the American Field Service.

Arriving at Helsinki, Miss Myer said she was met by her Finnish "mother and father" and family with whom she spent the summer as a member of the family. She explained many of the Finnish customs and told of their family life. Her visit took her to many summer vacation areas, to Lapland and to educational centers of Finland.

Miss Myer noted several churches which had been used during the Russian occupation as bars and dance halls for the Russians were now being renovated and returned to church use. She told about the love of summer homes by the Finns, their "invigorating" steam baths, and that the educational program there devoted much more time to science and languages and less to sports as compared to America. Cleanliness was noticeably evident everywhere. Prices for most commodities were very high. Blonde hair was a common sight and marketing was a daily habit, thus much in the way of refrigeration was not used by the average family. Fruits were not plentiful.

John Barton introduced Miss Myer and expressed regret that due to illness, two other exchange students who are now visiting the United States were unable to join Miss Myer on the program. They are Konrad Becker, Germany, and Hans Beck, of Holland.

Clinton Avenue Intermediate MYF entertained the gathering with selected songs of other countries including Australia, Switzerland, Wales and Germany. Mrs. Robert B. Gaines Jr., directed the group.

Rex DePew led the meeting in a community sing. Dale Natoli was piano accompanist. The invocation was given by Victor Osborn, and Walter Pettinger was in charge of devotions.

Washington's belief in the power of prayer was used as the theme for the devotional period. Mrs. Gussie Secore supervised the supper arrangements.

Methodist Men will have charge of the March 23, Lenten service at Clinton Avenue Church, it was announced.

Officers of the organization are Arthur G. Crist, president, Robert B. Gaines Jr., vice president; William Brown, treasurer; T. Bernard Sifts, secretary; Thomas W. Miller, reporter Dale Natoli, pianist. Methodist Men meet every fourth Monday evening.

Named Manager In Purchasing Division at IBM

HAROLD S. SHERIFF
NEW YORK—Harold S. Sheriff has been promoted to procurement manager of International Business Machines Corporation's Federal Systems Division. It was announced today by Charles Benton Jr., the division's president. One of his major responsibilities will be to act as coordinator for small business with the Department of Defense.

In his new position, Sheriff will administer the division's buying from more than 3,500 vendors. Over 3,000 of these vendors are small-business firms. "Small Business," said Benton, "is a major source of supply for the Federal Systems Division. It is vital that the division continues working as effectively as possible with the smaller firms."

Sheriff comes to the Federal Systems Division from the IBM General Products Division where, for the past 13 months, he was assistant for purchasing. Prior to that, he was the purchasing agent for IBM in San Jose, Calif. In his new post, Mr. Sheriff will make his headquarters in Rockville, Md.

Sheriff is a graduate of Lafayette College, Easton, Pa. He joined IBM in 1936.

14 Cadets Hurt In Bus Mishap

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—A bus carrying West Point's ski team skidded on a sharp curve near here Monday, barely missed a deep ravine, and crashed into a parked station wagon.

Ten cadets were hospitalized at the academy, and four were treated for minor injuries and released. An academy spokesman said none of the cadets was in serious condition.

The collision wedged the bus into the side of the station wagon.

The bus carrying 19 cadets and a serviceman driver was en route back to the academy from the Silver Mine ski area at nearby Bear Mountain. The cadets had practiced there.

One cadet, Wolfgang Fletter, a plebe from Fort Sill, Okla., was pinned in the wreckage for 10 minutes. He suffered a fractured left shoulder.

Deaths

ST. ANN'S DE LA POCAIERE, Quebec (AP)—Dr. Carl R. Fellers, 66, of Amherst, Mass., a nationally known food technician, died Monday. Fellers, who came here to lecture, had taught at the University of Massachusetts from 1926 until he retired in 1957.

OAKWOOD, Ohio (AP)—Edward T. Gardner, 80, retired papermaking executive, died Monday. He retired in 1957 as president of the former Gardner Board & Carton Co. of Middletown, Ohio, when it merged with the Diamond Match Co. He was born in Middletown.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Col. Victor Spencer, 78, millionaire Vancouver, B.C., rancher and industrialist, died Sunday, apparently of a heart attack. He was born in Vancouver.

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Donald Clay Heck, 62, assistant Sunday editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, died Monday of cancer. Heck, former news editor of the Enquirer, had been with the newspaper for 40 years and had worked at his desk until last November.

Hosts of New Hotel Kingston Have Community Plan in Mind

The "management team" of The New Hotel Kingston, Inc., the official designation of the former Hotel Kingston would like to "build the hotel into the community," they told The Freeman in an interview Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel K. Smith of New York City, who have spent many years in the hotel business, believe that a hotel is a community enterprise, that what benefits the hotel also benefits the community, and they would like to create a "community center" at The New Hotel Kingston, for people of the Kingston area, for people who come to visit here and for people just passing through.

Sale of the hotel to Smith, who represents a syndicate, was completed Friday evening. It was sold by the Small Business Administration which obtained the property last June in a foreclosure action against Valley Hoteliers, Inc., to satisfy a $287,000 mortgage and interest lien.

Badly damaged by fire in 1956, the building underwent extensive renovation and was reopened in December, 1957, with its name changed from the Stuyvesant to Hotel Kingston. Sale of the property last week means a tax gain for the city of Kingston which stood to lose more than $103,000 from its assessment rolls as long as the hotel was held by the SBA.

He will open the cocktail lounge and restaurant again as soon as possible. "It's like hopping along on one leg without it," an application is being made this week for renewal of license. Smith said they are in contact with certain individuals who are interested in operating the bar and restaurant on a lease basis.

Plans Store Space
He has a number of improvements in mind, one, the rental of some 5,000 square feet for store space. This space would include the banquet room, the old kitchen and service bar. Entrance to the store or stores would be from the Fair Street side. The space would be air-conditioned.

"Wherever we can serve the community, it is to our advantage to do so," Smith said. He and Mrs. Smith will reside at the hotel. It will not be an absentee manager arrangement, he assured The Freeman.

Smith has been associated particularly in the promotion of the past and believes that Kingston has "great opportunities" in this area. He would like to work with the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and other organizations to bring as much of this business to Kingston as possible.

Notes 300 Conventions

There are probably in New York City 300 conventions a year for which Kingston would be an ideal location," he said.

Approximately 25 per cent of the money spent by those attending a convention goes to the hotel, he stated, with probably 75 per cent going to other facilities, such as stores and restaurants.

He feels that Kingston would be ideal as a location for religious conventions, for instance. It was pointed out to him that some 500 members of Christian Endeavor will gather in Kingston for a four-day convention May 27-31.

Smith said it is a matter of "trading dollars"—money spent to bring conventions to the city against money poured into the city by conventions.

Must Be 'United Effort'
The "urge" for conventions, however, must originate in the community itself, must be a united effort, he pointed out.

He called attention to the proximity of the Thruway and other highways and the ideal location of Kingston as the hub of a "very busy tri-state area."

Smith said the hotel would seek to cooperate with other hotels in the area, the Catskill resorts, etc., to encourage people to stop in Kingston on their way to and from such resorts and hotels. He will also seek to place informational literature in such hotels and resort areas.

Smith is particularly interested in the convention aspect, and has had much experience in operation of such conventions and the techniques employed in obtaining them. He "hopes" to get on the convention committee of the Chamber of Commerce, he said.

Smith is president of The New Hotel Kingston, Inc. Mrs. Smith is serving as secretary-treasurer.

Nelson Lasher, a native of Ulster County, who for the past year and a half has served as day manager of the former Hotel Kingston, has been appointed resident manager of the new hotel.

No Profiteering In Drug Prices, PMA Head Avers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Organized drug manufacturers denied vigorously today their industry is profiteering against the sick, or dealing in monopolistic practices.

Dr. Austin Smith of Washington, president of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Assn., contended instead that drugs and medicines are "the real bargain" for the buying public today. His testimony was prepared for renewed hearings by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee.

At earlier hearings, the subcommittee has heard testimony that some big manufacturers have received markups as big as several thousand per cent on medicines sold to patients for up to 50 cents a dose.

Smith contended that singling out the price of one out of many products of a firm could mislead the public.

Vigorously defending medicine prices as reasonable, he said: "Americans would be paying a billion dollars a year more for drugs if the price of medicine in the past few years had gone up only as much as the total cost of living."

He said drug prices rose 3 per cent in the last 10 years while the average wholesale price of all industrial products went up 22 per cent.

Smith said he spoke for 138 manufacturers of prescription drugs and medicines who are members of his association.

Watertown Marine's Body Found in Harbor

NICE, France (AP)—The U. S. Navy today identified an American whose body was found in Toulon Harbor last week as Gary Thomas Wilder of Watertown, N. Y.

Wilder was a Marine corporal serving aboard the U. S. attack transport Cambria, a Navy spokesman said.

Officials said the body had been in the water about two weeks when it was found Feb. 18. An autopsy indicated Wilder had died of a brain hemorrhage, but officials said because of the condition of the body, they could not say whether he had fallen into the water or been struck on the head.

The Cambria was one of three ships from the U. S. 6th Fleet which visited Toulon Feb. 1-6.

Bill Would Speed Return of Auto Licenses Revoked

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A Senate-approved measure that would speed the return of motor vehicle driver's licenses to operators at the end of suspension periods went to the Assembly today.

The Senate approved the bill, introduced by Sen. Edward J. Speno (R-Nassau), Monday night.

It provides that a judge who imposed a suspension not exceeding 90 days could retain the license, advise the motor vehicles commissioner of the suspension and return the permit when the suspension was completed.

Under present law, the surrendered license is sent to the commissioner. Speno said motorists sometimes had to wait six months before the Motor Vehicle Department returned the license.

Family Starts Over After Second Fire

TABERG, N. Y. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hotaling started all over again today to furnish a home for their seven children.

Monday night, a fire again destroyed their home and possessions. The two-story frame house next door to a home the Hotalings lost two years ago.

The family, with children ranging in age from 6 to 20, fled safely after the youngest, Peter, discovered the flames.

Mrs. Hotaling said they had just finished paying for furnishings to replace those lost in the first fire. Firemen said the fire may have been caused by defective wiring.

Port Ewen Group To Elect Officers Thursday Night

Election of officers of the Port Ewen Business Men's Association will take place during a meeting Thursday night at the fire hall in Port Ewen, starting at 8 o'clock.

Officers elected at this meeting will take office during a dinner meeting Thursday, March 31.

Details of this program will be formulated at Thursday's session.

The organization is looking forward to a banner year as many important projects are on the agenda.

Several new business places have opened in Port Ewen while others are preparing to open. These newcomers are invited to attend Thursday's meeting and to become affiliated with the business organization.

Discards Show Sure Finesse

BY OSWALD JACOBY

South's seven diamonds was a distinct overbid. There was no reason to credit North with both the king and queen of clubs and South really was lucky to find the king in the hand.

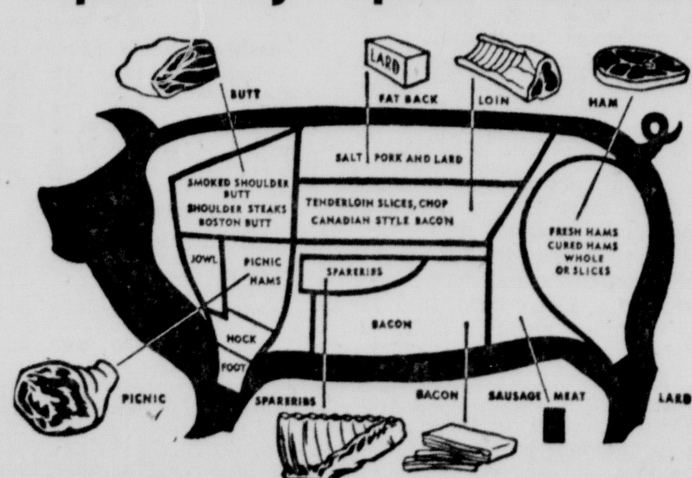

West opened the queen of spades. East played the eight and South ruffed with the nine. Now South played two high trumps and the ace and king of hearts. Then he went over to dummy with the eight of trumps, discarded a club on the queen of hearts, came back to his hand by ruffing a spade and ran off all his trumps.

He discarded down to three clubs in dummy and East who was one of those players who believe in holding on to their highest cards threw away all his low cards and kept the ace and king of spades and the ten of hearts.

West discarded spades, and South counted six in his hand. South knew exactly where the ace and king of spades were. West could not have either of them as he most likely would have stuck in a spade bid (also, remember his lead). Hence, East held them. South played the ace and jack of clubs and took the sure thing finesse against West's queen.

Maroon Closes Home Season Tonight Against Port Jervis

PHS Scheduled At Middletown In Vital Game

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

While Kingston High players are solid favorites to close their 1959-60 home season with a victory over inept Port Jervis, the Poughkeepsie Pioneers, leading the DUSO League by a slim half-game, journey to Middletown for a battle with the dangerous Middies in top action tonight.

There are two other games on tonight's card and Monticello, the other club in contention for the title, is in one of them. The Monties are at Liberty for a crucial meeting with their arch rivals, Newburgh plays at Fallsburgh in the other contest.

The standings read like this:

Team	W	L
Poughkeepsie	11	2
Kingston	11	3
Monticello	10	3
Newburgh	8	6
Ellenville	7	7
Middletown	6	7
Liberty	6	8
Port Jervis	1	12
Fallsburgh	1	13

Games tonight:

Port Jervis at Kingston
Poughkeepsie at Middletown
Monticello at Liberty
Newburgh at Fallsburgh

Kingston should have little more than a workout against the Porters. Coach Pat Farace has a green squad that has not improved as he hoped it would. The Porters were beaten, 84-58, at home by the locals. They will not do nearly as well tonight.

Poughkeepsie doesn't figure to have it as easy. Middletown is a good home team year in and year out. The Middies' gym is dark and not nearly as big as the ones the Pioneers play on. In addition, the home side has the height to handle Poughkeepsie off the backboards. If either Bob Bosch or Jim Gordon have off nights, an upset is not improbable.

Monties Need Win

Monticello needs a win at Liberty to stay in contention and this is no easy task. The Indians play like champions at home. They lost, 71-58, at Monticello but could turn the tables this time around. Leo Armistead and teammates have to be at their best.

Newburgh should outclass Fallsburgh. The Comets don't figure to win another game in their last year in the circuit. Bob Kunis is their best player and when he has an off night, nobody else on the team can pick up the slack.

Friday's action, which will complete the regular season except for some postponed games, finds Kingston at Newburgh, Middletown at Port Jervis, Fallsburgh at Liberty and Ellenville at Monticello. There is a strong possibility that the pennant won't be decided until the first week of March. It's still up for grabs between Poughkeepsie, Kingston and Monticello.

New Group May Promote Moore's Next Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Feature Sports, Inc., the new promotion outfit that holds the contract for the Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title rematch, also may be promoting Archie Moore's next title fight.

Moore, stripped of his light-heavy title last week by the National Boxing Assn., but still recognized by several states including New York, said in Miami Monday he had accepted Feature Sports' $200,000 offer to defend this summer against the No. 2 contender, Eric Schoepner of Germany.

Moore was stripped of his title by the NBA Feb. 15 because six months have passed since his last defense.

East-West Football Game in the Making

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Within two weeks, the American Football Coaches Assn. hopes to complete details for a new all-star East-West football game to benefit the National Football Hall of Fame.

Rip Engle, Penn State coach and association president, said Monday the "coaches are determined to promote such a contest even if it takes another year."

Present plans, he said, call for the game to be played in June at Hershey, Pa., and would match senior players from each side of the Mississippi River.

The Football Hall of Fame is at Rutgers University.

1,000 Roll in Dimes Sweeper; Sinsabaugh, Beichert Lead

The recently completed March of Dimes sweepstakes attracted 1,000 entries and eight first place winners in the men's and women's divisions shared $283,000 in prizes, with an additional $60,000 paid out in high single awards during the second week.

Ethel Henderson, secretary-treasurer of the sweepstakes, on Sunday turned over a check for $600 to Addison Jones, campaign director, as the polo fund's share of the sweepstakes.

The winners and prizes in the two divisions of the two-week tournament were:

(Men's Division)

$60,000, Bill Sinsabaugh, IBM Erie, 664-72-736.
$25,000, Clifford Schryver, Booster, 594-120-714.
$40,000, Elvin Rose, Good Neighbor, 629-84-713.

(Women's Division)

$40,000, Flo Beichert, Community, 574-106-682.
$25,000, Stella Raymond, Bowlerama Quads, 517-150-667.
$18,000, Rose Nardi, 482-174-656.
The winners of $5,000 prizes for high gross singles were:
Flo Shaw, Clayton Bruck 254;
Ed Van Loan 269, Marion Zwick 247, Cliff Schryver 269, Nell Alverson 248, Marshall Amarello 268, Bev Triff 240, Fred Wiswell 235, Pete Nagy 260, Betty Saban 265.

Eagles Widen Shuffle Lead

White Eagles trounced the Elks Lodge, 5-2, and now lead the Fraternal shuffleboard league by nine games, having won 81 and lost 38.

In other matches, St. Mary's Benevolent Society downed Moose Lodge, 5-2, and Knights of Columbus trimmed the Kings-ton Power Boat Association.

Mike Provenzano of the Elks was high scorer for the night with 21 points. R. Houghtaling of the White Eagles and Vern Radcl (KPBA) each scored 18. F. Witkowski, Eagles, had 18; G. Van Winkle, KPBA, 16; and Joe Wenzel and John Wenzel of White Eagles, 15 each.

Second Place Fight Is Tight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Only one point separates the Rochester Americans and the Buffalo Bisons today in their dogfight for second place in the American Hockey League.

The Bisons, getting superb goal-tending from Roy Edwards, blanked the Amerks 3-0 Monday night and now have 64 points to 65 for Rochester. Both clubs still have a mathematical chance of overhauling first place Springfield, but the Indians are 10 points up on Rochester and 11 on the Bisons.

Edwards made 30 saves in recording his third shutout of the season and got the support he needed from Phil Maloney, Dick Gamble and veteran Wally Hergeheimer. Maloney and Gamble scored in the first period with Herge closing the scoring at 17:52 of the second.

The game originally was scheduled for last Friday but was postponed because of a snowstorm.

Costello Tops Holly, 160-98 In Pocket Billiard Tourney

Billy Costello defeated Dave Holly, 160-98, in a bizarre city pocket billiard match in which Costello led by the lopsided margin of 105-3 at one point.

Playing a steady game and resorting to airtight safeties, Holly reduced Costello's lead to 123-90, before he ran into three consecutive scratches that cost him 15 balls in penalties.

Costello's high runs were 23 and 21. Holly had a high string of 15.

The tournament's two most unpredictable players — Pete Wolff and Bob East, clash this evening at 7:15.

Mac Kay Greatly Improved Sharpens for Davis Cup Test

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — National indoor tennis champion Parry MacKay still may not be the most graceful player on a tennis court, but he's a greatly improved one. "He's starting to hit with his forehand," observed Don Budge, one of the greatest, today. "And that's good. Furthermore, he is tightening up on his second service."

Whatever the reason, MacKay cannon-balled Dick Savitt, 6-2, 2-6, 10-12, 6-1, 6-4 Monday to win the national indoor title.

Savitt, a 31-year-old New York oil company executive, is not playing the circuit but he won the crown in 1952, in 1958 and lost the final to Alex Olmedo last year. "Yes," said MacKay, "my forehand and service have improved. In fact, I wouldn't mind playing some of those guys who have turned professional."

The Dayton, Ohio, resident probably will have an opportunity next year. George Barnes, president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn., was a spectator at the finals and said he was certain the International Tennis Federation would vote in open tournaments at its meeting in Paris July 6.

"The first probably will be played in Australia right after the first of the year," he said. As for MacKay, he is going to sharpen himself for the Davis Cup matches this year. He's headed for the Caribbean circuit next month. Then it's off for Europe and the Italian, French and Wimbledon tournaments.

Any time MacKay and Savitt hook up, it's a battle of services. The final here has no exception. Savitt finished with 28 aces and MacKay had 23. But MacKay was superior when the ball was in play.

Stith, St. Bonaventure Ace, Does Things the Hard Way

OLEAN, N. Y. (AP) — Tom Stith, the scoring wizard of 10th-ranked St. Bonaventure and second nationally behind Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, seems to be doing things the hard way. His best shot is almost lost in the Bonnies' offense.

"Tom is basically a jump shooter," Coach Eddie Donovan said today. "But because he is our tallest man, he plays along the baseline and doesn't get to use the shot enough."

Stith, a junior from Brooklyn, N. Y., has a 31.8 scoring average in 18 games. Robertson, the all-time college scorer, has a 34.6 mark in 22 games.

Stith, whose brother Sam is also a starter on the NIT-bound Indians, relies on hook shots, layups and tap-ins to score most of his points. But he'll keep the defense honest with an occasional move to the outside for his jump shot.

"He makes it look easy," Donovan continued. "He has great hands, good moves and works for position."

"On a man-against-man basis, I don't think there is any better in the country," Donovan said.

Stith has scored on 226 of his 442 field attempts and has paced his team to a 15-3 record, and 12-game winning streak. Donovan labels him a real student of the game and it was quite apparent last December in New York's Holiday Festival when he faced Robertson in the last game St. Bonaventure lost.

The big O scored 46 points in that one while Stith got 19.

That was a tourney record until the next night when Tom, obviously picking up a thing or two, broke it with 48 against Manhattan.

Robertson still had the final say with a 50-point performance in the finals but he left a few pointers as Stith raised his average from 24.6 to its present 31.8—and mostly without that old reliable jump shot.

Glover Has Big Lead in American Hockey League

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran Fred Glover of the Cleveland Barons has taken a commanding lead in the American Hockey League scoring race on the strength of a 12-point surge in last week's games.

The weekly figures released today show Glover with 82 points on league-leading totals of 33 goals and 49 assists. He collected four goals and eight assists last week.

Floyd Smith of Springfield, with whom Glover was tied for the lead a week ago, dropped to second with 72 points. Teammate Bill Sweeney is third with 67.

Ed Chadwick of Rochester continues to lead the goalies, with a 2.72 goals against average.

KBA Names Winners In Minor Events Play

Charlie Alecca, a 126-average bowler for tournament purposes, fired a rousing 588 net and received maximum handicap of 150 pins to place first with 738 in the gross singles of the Kingston Bowling Association tournament.

Al Sonnenberg and Stan Tatar, a couple of once-a-week keglers, grabbed off the doubles championship, with a 1296 gross.

Rod Whittaker, a 145 average bowler, posted 1662 net and had 391 pins handicap for 2058 gross, all-events.

Ken Joseph (583) and Tom Carlinio (582) combined for the net doubles title with 1165.

Buster Ferraro meshed games of 200, 243 and 220 for 663 net singles.

Four keglers soared over 1800 net in the all-events. Jim Amen-dola led with 1186 on 707 in the team event, 628 doubles and 551 singles. Runnerup Jack Ferraro fired 599-604-658 for 1861.

Tom Carlinio had an 1844 net and George Shufeldt 1828.

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Barring an amazing upset, the Stars and Stripes of the United States should flutter high on the Olympic pole today for the first time in the eighth Winter Olympics.

Already far ahead after completion of the compulsory figures, lovely Carol Heiss of Ozone Park, N.Y., was rated a 1 to 100 shot to realize a 15-year ambition and win the Olympic figure skating gold medal—the only prize that has eluded her so far.

The pert, 20-year-old skating queen stepped on the ice for the free skating finale today with the almost unbeatable lead over her arch-rival, 18-year-old Sjodje Dijkstra of Holland. Carol, the four-time world champion, had 9 ordinals—a perfect rating from the nine judges—and 837.8 points compared to the European champion's 20 ordinals and 792 points.

Judging Causes Stir
Carol was far in front despite some eyebrow-lifting scoring on the fifth and final compulsory figure Monday. Five of the nine judges gave Miss Dijkstra more points on this difficult backward bracket change bracket figure than they credited to Carol. One other official had them even. Several members of the U. S. family charged the judges upgraded the Dutch girl.

The Americans—shut out of the first 11 of the 27 championships—had another hope in the women's giant slalom. Penny Pitou, of Guilford, N.H., who was second in the downhill, and Betsy Snite, of Norwich, Vt., matched their skill and daring against Europe's best in the giant slalom on Papoose Peak.

There was virtually no hope at all for Uncle Sam in the remainder of the program. He didn't have a ghost of a chance in the 3,000-meter women's speed skating, an event right up the Soviet Union's alley, or in the men's 15-kilometer (9.6 miles) cross-country ski race. Sixteen Jernberg, Sweden's "king of the skis" and winner of the 30-kilometer gold medal, aimed to become the first double gold medal winner of the games by taking this race.

Monday was another black day for the Yanks. In the fourth day of competition, the gold medals went to France, the U.S.S.R. and Germany, and the Soviet Union rolled up its advantage in the unofficial team point scoring.

The Soviets had 86½ points, Germany 48, Sweden 29, the U.S.A. 16, Switzerland 15, Canada and Austria 13 each, Finland and Poland 11 each, Italy 8, Norway 6, Japan 3½.

The best the Americans could do in individual competition was eighth place in the women's 1,000-meter speed skating. Jeanne Ashworth of Wilmington, Mass., set a national record of 1:36.5 in the event, won by the Soviet's Klara Gusieva in 1:34.1.

Jean Vuarnet, a handsome, 27-year-old Frenchman who was told to "go for broke" in his last big-time fling, captured the downhill in 2:06.0 for the dangerous, two-mile journey down ice-topped Squaw Peak.

George Thoma, a stocky, 22-year-old mail carrier from Germany's Black Forest, upset the Scandinavian and Soviet favorites in winning the Nordic combined jumping and cross-country skiing with 457.9 points.

The 5-6, 147-pound West German added a fourth place in the cross-country to his first in the jumping to beat Norway's Tormod Knutsen.

Hockey provided a bright note for the hosts. The American hockey team, paced by Minnesota's Roger Christian's three-goal performance, defeated Sweden 6-3, in the opening round of the final Olympic hockey championship tournament.

The Soviet Union downed scrappy Czechoslovakia 8-5, and Canada trounced Germany 12-0 in the other openers.

Big O Again Cracks Record Books, Bearcats Near Title

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oscar Robertson has another line in major college basketball's record book today and his top-ranked Cincinnati Bearcats are virtually assured of their third crack at the NCAA championship.

The fabulous Big O, winding up what for him was a mediocre two-game tour of Texas, managed six field goals Monday night in Cincinnati's 85-54 rout of North Texas State to the Elgin Baylor's all-time career record of 966 field goals.

But while Oscar was held to only 16 points, Houston shoved the Bearcats toward another Missouri Valley Conference championship and another NCAA tournament by snapping Bradley's 15-game winning streak, 63-58.

The flub by Bradley, the nation's No. 3 team in the new Associated Press poll, dropped the Braves a game behind Cincinnati with three games to go for each club in their mighty MVC duel. If Cincinnati can win its last three conference games—and it'll be naturally favored over Wichita, Tulsa and Drake—it has the title and an NCAA berth in the bag.

Georgia Tech and Notre Dame officially joined the NCAA tournament family, the Irish (15-7) as an at-large selection for the first round at Lexington, Ky. March 8, and Tech by clinching the Southeastern Conference spot with a 69-55 overtime victory over Florida.

Auburn stayed even with Tech at 11-2 in the SEC with one game remaining after a 72-63 decision over Tennessee but the Tigers are on NCAA probation and ineligible for the tournament. Runner-up Kentucky, 10-3 after whipping Alabama 75-55, still could tie Tech but Tech would still get the berth in that event since it beat Kentucky twice during the regular season.

In other top games, New Mexico State grabbed the Border Conference lead from West Texas by a half-game with a 92-59 thrashing of the erstwhile pace-setters; Indiana rolled to its ninth straight victory 92-78 over Illinois to keep its mathematical chance behind unbeaten Ohio State in the Big Ten race; and Missouri whipped Colorado 82-73 and knocked the Buffs out of a three-way tie for the Big Eight lead with idle Kansas and Kansas State.

Wake Forest (18-6) prepping for the big Atlantic Coast Conference tournament next week, thumped NIT-bound Villanova 89-70 behind 26 points from Billy Packer, 21 from DBearaud and 20 from Lenzie Chappell.

Other major results included: Miami, Fla.'s 104-95 victory over Kentucky Wesleyan for a 2-3 record; Oklahoma 50 Nebraska 49, Iowa 78 Purdue 68, Duke 79 Virginia 63, Northwestern 71 Michigan State 69, Iowa 78 Purdue 68, Wisconsin 88 Michigan 82 in overtime, Arkansas 94 Rice 74, and Manhattan 109 CUNY 67.

Harvard Wins Fifth Ivy Hockey Game

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Harvard won its fifth Ivy League hockey game Monday night, 12-2, at the expense of Cornell, still without a league victory.

Harvard scored four times in each period. Dave Grannis and Bill Beckett each netted three-goal hat tricks.

Harvard has two losses in league play. Overall the Crimson has 15 victories, 3 losses, and 1 tie. Cornell has yet to win in nine league starts and has one victory against 16 losses this season.

45th Bill Signs

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Dick Evans, a 190-pound end from Virginia Military Institute, has signed a contract with Buffalo of the American Football League. The team's roster now includes 45 players.

Monti Beaten at His Own Game on Sledder's Holiday

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (AP)—World champion Luguenio Monti of Italy, on a bobsledder's holiday, got beat at his own game Monday by a handful of youngsters.

After winning three races here within a week, Monti took the traditional advance run down the course for the pee-wee championships. He squeezed into a sled about four feet long with Gary Sheffield of Lake Placid at the brake.

The pair made it down the quarter-mile run on Mt. Van Housen in 42 seconds. Several of the 72 boys and girls—age 14 and under—came in under that time. The fastest heat was 29.51.

Mixed in with the successful runs were 20 spills. But there were no injuries.

The girls competition—all of them under 12—was won by the daughters of two bobsledders, Elizabeth Latour of Saranac Lake and Joan Fortune of Lake Placid had a winning time for two heats of 1 minute, 4.93 seconds.

Among boys 8 to 10, Mike Fitzsimmons and Joe LaBombard of Ausable Forks placed first in 1:11.24.

Among boys 10 to 12, the winners were Billy Maconi and Chris Cross of Ausable Forks, in 1:03.27.

Among boys 12 to 14, Christopher Grimes and John Littlewood of Saranac Lake led the field in 1:01.21.

The competition was the last of the season on the bobsled. The State Conservation Department and Lake Placid sponsored the youngsters' day. Monti leaves for Italy today.

Bowlero Keglers Annex Pair From Bowling Time Lanes

Sangi's Bowlero won a pair of games from Bowling Time Lanes in the Hudson Valley Woman's League Sunday, dropping the middle set, 840-815.

Evelyn Nitsch set the pace for the locals with 542 on lines of 201-174-167. Ethel Henderson fired 512 and Rosemary Pillsworth rolled 535. The locals totaled 2551 on games of 860, 815, 876.

Ruth Babcock hit 534 and Gladys Cullum 531 for the visitors.

Best Punter

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Yale Larry of the Detroit Lions won the 1959 punting championship of the National Football League with a 47.1-yard average per boot. Larry edged New York's Don Chandler who averaged 46.6. Tom Davis, San Francisco rookie, was third with 45.7.

fact that Pinson was one of only three players in the National League to appear in every game on his club's schedule.

However, a check on Pinson's record shows the grind exacted its toll. During April the young centerfielder hit at a .344 clip. He was .328 for May and then dipped to .272 in June.

After a three-day layoff for the All-Star Game he was back on the beam in July, swatting at a .309 clip. He hit a lofty .367 in August and then tailed off to a .242 for the month of September.

For a study in consistency, Zureick offers the record of Gus Bell, who bounced back after a miserable season in 1958 to hit .293.

Against left-handers, Bell banged out 41 hits in 140 swings, a .293 average. He rapped right-handed pitching for 129 hits in 440 swings, also a .293 average.

And, as Zureick puts it, "How consistent can a guy be?" Bell, a victim of the platoon system during the first half of the season, went into the July All-Star Game hitting only .262.

Playing regularly under Fred Hutchinson, Bell batted .320 during the second half of the season, driving home 28 runs in July and 29 in August.

Anyone in favor of platooning?

Surprising, too, perhaps, is the fact that Pinson was one of only three players in the National League to appear in every game on his club's schedule.

Vada Pinson

In 189 swings against the southpaws included 17 doubles and four triples.

Only one of Pinson's 20 homers came off southpaws which is an indication he played it smart—hitting the ball where it was pitched instead of pulling everything.

A break-down of Pinson's over-all record shows his 67 hits

Lions, Kiwanis

Biddy Winners

Lions trounced the Jaycees, 43-25, and Kiwanis overwhelmed Rotary, 58-19, in Biddy basketball league games last night. The Rotarians were shut out in the third quarter.

Dan Heppner potted 13 points and Gary Van Etten had 10 for Kiwanis. George Barnes paced Rotary with seven. Leslie Munson of Lions hit 12 and teammate Vince Fisher had 10.

Bruce Ackert of Jaycees was the individual scoring leader for the night with 17 points.

New Snow Hammers
Plains State Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fresh snowstorms raked wide sections of the plains states today, with blizzard conditions in some areas.

Gusty northerly winds, heavy snow and near zero temperatures were reported along the southern Nebraska border southward through most of west and central Kansas and the Oklahoma-Texas Panhandle. The storm center moved northeastward out of the south central plains.

Winds up to 30 to 40 m.p.h. whipped the heavy snow covering, making driving conditions hazardous. Falls measured three to six inches during the night in many parts of the storm belt.

Warnings of heavy snow were posted for most of east and central Kansas, southeast Nebraska,

Iowa and northwest Missouri, with accumulations of four to eight inches by tonight.

The cold weather also invaded areas along the eastern slopes of the Rockies from east central Wyoming southward into northeast New Mexico, which also was hit by snow.

Snow flurries persisted during the night from Minnesota eastward across the Great Lakes region and western Pennsylvania and New York into northern New England.

Chilly weather returned to northern Florida, with temperatures dropping into the 30s. Heavy rains fell in the southern half of Florida. Clear, crisp weather prevailed in other parts of the Southeast and in most sections along the East Coast from northern Florida to New England.

Pig Latin Check
Nabs Ex-Con as Envoy's Robber

NEW YORK (AP)—A police list of men who speak pig Latin during holdups led to the arrest Monday night of an ex-convict who was charged with robbing the Chilean ambassador to the United Nations.

Ambassador Daniel Schweitzer, 64, was asked if he was Jewish by three robbers who broke into his home Feb. 13. When he replied that he was, they forced him at gunpoint to give the Nazi salute and shout "Heil Hitler!"

Schweitzer thought the men spoke a foreign language among themselves, although it was none he understood. He carefully described what he heard to detectives, and they decided it was pig Latin.

They consulted a list of robbers who have used pig Latin and came up with the name of Joseph Edward Cullan, 29.

Cullan was released from Sing Sing Prison last September after serving a term for robbing the same apartment Schweitzer now occupies.

Schweitzer identified Cullan who was arrested at his rooming house. Police said he admitted he was one of the robbers who took $181 in cash and a bottle of champagne from Schweitzer. Cullan was charged with assault and robbery. The search continued for his two companions.

Michael School P-TA
Program on Thursday

Thursday evening, February 25, at 7:45 the Parent-Teacher Association of Myron J. Michael School will present a program of particular interest to the parents of prospective high school freshmen.

The program will consist of talks by James E. Tobin, director of Pupil Personnel Services for the Kingston Schools; Hubert Hoderath, director of Industrial Arts and Vocational Education for the Kingston Schools, and Dan H. Allen, guidance counselor at the Myron J. Michael School.

After the talks are presented, the parents will be invited to form small groups with a member of the guidance staff of the city schools as discussion leader. Parents are reminded to bring questions about the Kingston High School program to the meeting.

Although the program will be of particular interest to parents of next year's high school freshmen, all parents are invited.

Liberty, Roscoe
Banks Are One

LIBERTY, N. Y. (AP) — Two Sullivan County banks, the Sullivan County National Bank of Liberty and the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Roscoe, formally merged today after receipt of approval from government banking agencies.

The new institution is named the Sullivan County National Bank. It has total resources of about 18 million dollars. Elected president was Joseph E. Fersch, who formerly headed the bank in Liberty. Donald Albee, former president of the Roscoe bank, is vice chairman.

SET OFF UPROAR—Paul Galanti, an Air Force Reserve sergeant, reads at his Trenton, N. J., home. Galanti set off the uproar about training manuals by bringing a manual which charged Communist infiltration in the churches to his minister. An investigation followed with disclosures of other manuals covering everything from bartending to manual writing. (AP Wirephoto)

FBI Man Takes
Yale Security Job

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—An FBI agent will take over the tough job of managing Yale University's often strained relations with the city of New Haven.

John W. Powell will end a 17-year career with the Federal Bureau of Investigation to become security director and associate dean of students.

"It's a new concept of law enforcement as far as university police departments go," Powell said today. "To my knowledge, it will be one of the first times a university police chief will have faculty status. It deals not only with the campus police, but with the students, faculty, and the community too."

Powell, who is in his 40s, will be the man in charge of the university's 64-man campus police force, the school's representative in town-and-gown relations, and he hopes—a friend of the students.

He says the biggest job will probably be maintaining good relations between the university and the city. Yale, which has about 4,000 energetic undergraduates, is built right in the center of New Haven, a city of 169,000 inhabitants.

Tension between the school and the town is often strong. It was strong just a month ago, when the widely-publicized "sex in the dormitory" case came to light. That case led to Powell's appointment Monday.

Twenty students were charged with lascivious carriage, a general charge, after it was alleged they had indulged in sexual play with a 14-year-old girl in a dormitory.

The campus police investigated the case for several days before the New Haven police knew about it. When the case was publicized, it was reported that Yale's handling of the matter had caused friction between the university and the city.

The campus police chief was reassigned to another job. Powell, as security director, will take over the campus police chief's job.

The recent incident followed a series of snowball riots last March when 42 students were arrested. The charges against them were dropped, but the students charged that they were the victims of police brutality.

Says Icelandic Boat
Fired on British

LONDON (AP)—The Federation of British Trawlers said an Icelandic gunboat had fired on the 666-ton British fishing boat James Barrie and its crew of 20 two days ago. A British Admiralty spokesman said the shots did no damage "and so presumably were blanks."

The federation said the James Barrie was fishing five miles off the coast of Iceland. Iceland has ordered foreign boats not to fish within 12 miles of its shores. The British insist on the old three-mile limit.

Three Workers Killed

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Three road-maintenance workers were killed Monday by an empty auto carrier which plowed into them after the brakes on the truck failed.

Killed were Adam Bailey, 54, of Kempton R. D. 1, Pa.; Eugene Ziegler, 63, Breinigsville, R.D. 1, Pa.; and Paul Metzger, 43, Westerville R.D. 1, Pa.

The driver of the rig, James Rider, 37, of Milville, R.D. 1, Pa., was charged on three counts of involuntary manslaughter.

Progress on W. Camp Church
Advanced; Ready for Easter

The $30,000 remodeling program at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp, is expected to be far enough advanced to permit the use of the sanctuary for Easter services, April 17. The remodeling program is in preparation for the 250th anniversary celebration of the church this year.

Albert J. Cawein, secretary of the church council, and celebration committee chairman said the building committee received word that there will be a delay in the installation of the new $10,500 organ which is not expected to be ready for the Easter services.

However arrangements will be made to use the portable organ now in use in the parish hall through the kind generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knaust. In the event that the new church furniture and appointments are not completed, temporary chairs will be placed in the sanctuary for the Easter services.

Two early events on the timetable schedule of the anniversary committee will have to be postponed. The rededication service was originally scheduled for Sunday, April 3, and the convention of the Hudson-Catskill Chapter of the American Guild of Organists had been scheduled for Monday, April 4.

Highlights of the schedule of events for the anniversary year include the following:

Friday, April 29—Hudson Conference of United Lutheran Synod of New York and New England.

Sunday, May 1—Organ recital by Loton E. Springstead.

Sunday, May 15—Hudson District Luther League session.

Sunday, May 22—Choir reunion.

During July and August previous pastors and other prominent clergymen will be guest preachers. The Rev. LaRoy S. Dietrich former pastor of the church will preach on August 6.

The anniversary service is tentatively scheduled for Sunday, October 9.

Dart Leaders
Hold Positions
As SCB's Gain

Katsbaan, Centerville and Quarryville, holding the first three positions in Saugerties Dartball League held their spots by taking 2 to 1 splits from their opponents. Four players from Centerville won three from Trinity and moved a half game closer to the leaders.

Fifth place Ruby dropped the 2 to 1 split to Centerville and lost ground to sixth place West Camp who won 2 to 1 over Cementon. Katsbaan defeated Glasco Vols and Quarryville, Glasco AC by 2 to 1 scores.

Other scores: Service Center A's 2 Golden Eagles 1; Mt. Marion 2, Veteran 1; American Legion 2, Centerville Vols 1, and Malden-West Camp Vols, idle. League President Virgil Finger reported that league officials approved the addition of Thomas Murray and Robert White to the Cementon roster to bring them up to full player strength.

Lutheran Pastor

Slated to Speak
At Home Church
Anniversary Rite

The Rev. Walter Cowen, pastor of Atonement Lutheran Church, Saugerties, will be guest speaker at a special service commemorating the 65th anniversary of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Mt. Vernon, Sunday at 4 p. m. The service will be followed by a congregational dinner in the church recreation center.

The topic for the sermon will be "Love Is a Curse—When—"

The Rev. Mr. Cowen is a native of Mt. Vernon, where he attended Sunday school and was confirmed. He later taught for a number of years in the Sunday school.

Under the encouragement of the late Rev. Fred Christ, in 1922, he began his studies for the Lutheran Ministry. During his student years he supplied the pulpit there during vacation periods.

He was ordained June 26, 1931, at Good Shepherd Church, during the pastorate of the Rev. William C. J. Weidt. The Rev. Mr. Weidt, is well known in the Hudson Valley for his work as New York State Placement Director for refugees. Through his efforts several hundred refugees were given job assurances enabling them to start a new life in America. The Rev. Mr. Cowen is the only son of Good Shepherd congregation to enter the ministry.

Jaynees Hear
Lawson Address
On JCC History

Saugerties Jaynees at a Monday night dinner meeting in the Stone-wall Hotel heard about the history and growth of the Jaynees in an address by Donald Lawson, Saugerties Jaynees founder and internal state vice president.

Lawson, a former president of the local Jaynees, is a candidate for the state Jaynees presidency. In his talk, Lawson also explained the differences between the organization of state, national and local chapters.

The Jaynees made preliminary plans for sponsorship of its annual sewing contest and fashion show. The contest will be divided into four classes—beginners, intermediates, advanced, and childrens clothes. There will be special awards and no age limits for entering.

A committee was appointed for the orientation of new members to be welcomed at the Monday, March 28 meeting at Stone-wall Hotel. A film on mouth-to-mouth resuscitation will be shown. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. June Myers, Mrs. Di-

And Plans Party

Arrangements for the first annual St. Patrick's Day dinner, and committee appointments for the year were made at the Sunday afternoon meeting of Gateway Association at Clinton Avenue Methodist Church Hall.

The dinner sponsored by the 50 Club will be held March 20 at Wimpys Restaurant, 92 Broadway at 1:30 p. m. The menu will feature ham.

Committee appointments included the following:

Special events, Dale Natoli, Marion Gill, Ida Mae DePue, and John Clynne. Natoli is also program chairman.

Refreshments, Marion Gill and Ida Mae DePue.

Sunshine, Helen Clare and Marion Gill.

Official recognition was noted in the club's records for its departed member, the late Harry L. "Pop" Edson. The resolution in the minutes attested to his contribution towards the civic activities of the community.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served and an hour of folk music was presented by James Goins and Dale Natoli.

Says 106 Men Are Still in Coal Mine

BERLIN (AP)—The East German news agency ADN reported today that 106 men still are trapped in a coal mine at Zwickau following an explosion.

ADN said at least 17 men died in the disaster, one of the worst in German mining history.

The blast ripped a main shaft of the Karl Marx mine early Monday and touched off a raging fire that hindered rescue efforts.

ADN said rescue teams so far have pulled 51 miners to safety.

Israel Denies UAR
Mobilization Charge

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel has denied charges by President Nasser that she is mobilizing and massing troops on Syria's frontier.

Rejecting as "utter nonsense" the claim by the United Arab Republic President, an Israeli military spokesman declared Monday that life in Israel is "proceeding normally and peacefully." There have been no border incidents, for several days, he added.

round was sufficient to cost them first. Burnt Hills, Albany, and a second Saugerties unit had a record of 4 wins 2 losses.

Patricia Sasso, Wayne Abbott (3-0) Charles Hall and Lynn Broome (1-2) finished fifth but missed the finals by a point. Hall and Broome moved up from the novice division but were routed by more experienced squads.

In the novice division Frank Mauro and Jack Wilde on 11th hour replacements for Hall and Broome went undefeated to pace Saugerties to a 5-1 first place.

Virginia Rooser and Sharon Johnson as their affirmative won two before losing to Albany. Saugerties' remaining novice squads each had records of 3-3 to tie for fifth. Fred Sandner and Boetcher were undefeated but their previously invincible partners Edward Strosahl and Bradley Weilton were overwhelmed.

David Loerzel and Carol Knaust were able to win only one of three. Marlene Carpio without Ronald Smith, and Marjorie Fuzo, without Brian Legg, joined to round out the final squad. After a serious loss in the first round they rallied to win the last two.

The varsity victory assured Saugerties of their third straight Capital District title and fifth straight qualification for the finals. Columbia took the semi-experienced for the second straight year. Saugerties novice repeated their first place finish of a year ago.

The council's annual clothing drive for overseas will be held in April.

The council voted $50 to be given to St. Paul's at West Camp for a memorial in memory of the late Dr. Henry J. Arnold, a member of the church, who served as vice president of the council. A clergy staff for the chancel of the remodeled church will be purchased.

The next meeting is scheduled Monday, March 28 at Atonement Lutheran Church, Saugerties.

Sawyer Debaters
Win Albany Trials

Saugerties debaters qualified for the state finals April 1 and 2 with overwhelming victories in all divisions of the regional tourney at Albany, Saturday.

In posting 26 wins against 10 losses they scored first in varsity and novice competition and second and fifth in the semi-experienced reserve. In individual events Michael Breen took first in extemporaneous speech, and Hannah McLennon scored second in interpretative speech.

In the experienced division Robert Francello replaced Malcolm Mackay as a partner for Charlotte Bell. In the opening round they scored a one point victory over eventual runnerup Columbia. They posted a record of 3 wins 0 losses. Equally successful George Popowicz and Paul Kruger dashed East Greenbush hopes with a second round victory. Results of the varsity were Saugerties 6-0, Columbia 4-2, Bethlehem 3-3, Johnston 2-4, Albany 0-6.

Columbia took first place on points in the semi-experienced division with a record of 5-1. Patricia Mayone, Pamela LaPlant (3-0) Stanley Newkirk and Gail Kellogg (2-1) also posted a record of 5-1 to finish second. When teams have identical records speaker ranks are totaled to break the tie. Saugerties' loss to Burnt Hills in the opening

Jersey Court Is Asked to Decide
On Milk Prices

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — The State Supreme Court was asked today to decide if North Jersey milk dealers are, being illegally regulated by the state.

Edward W. Currie of Matawan, lawyer for E. J. McGovern Dairy Products Inc. of Bayonne, told the court Monday that a federal milk marketing order has superseded state powers in 13 North Jersey counties.

Deputy Atty. Gen. William Boyan answered today that Currie was wrong. He said the 1957 marketing order affected only prices paid to milk farmers—not to distributors.

The McGovern firm, operated by four brothers with annual sales of $300,000, lost its license last year after it refused to pay a $3,300 fine assessed by State Milk Director Floyd R. Hoffman.

Hoffman ruled that one partner got illegal rebates of 2 cents a quart from its milk supplier, under a secret pact, and filed a false report with Hoffman which didn't show two checks totaling $772.

Currie claimed that Hoffman's actions in milk regulation have been high-handed that that he has used threat of revocation to collect fines for the state.

Boyan replied that Hoffman follows state law, and the state law is constitutional and has not been pre-empted by Congress.

Currie said five other firms, which lost their licenses with the McGovern firm on similar charges, have been allowed to continue operating with a license issued to the wife of the milk dealer. He said the former dealers, however, continue to run the firms.

Boyan said if Currie could prove his charges, the license issued to the wives would be revoked.

The court usually takes a month or more to decide a case.

Two Malicious Acts
Under Police Probe

Two acts of malicious mischief were under investigation today by Kingston detectives, who received complaints that someone damaged a rest room in a diner and an unidentified person hurled a truck axle through the windshield of a parked vehicle.

Detective Charles McCullough investigated a complaint from the Royal Diner on Albany Avenue. He found that a window had been knocked out and the wall of the rest room had been cut. The damage was estimated at $50.

Dennis Harp, of 19 Downs Street, complained that someone had smashed the windshield of his automobile while it was parked early today. Patrolmen Robert Bonesteel and Joseph Kivlan investigated and found a truck axle poked through the windshield.
